

FRENCH CLAIM A BIG GAIN, BUT THE GERMANS DENY IT

ADVANCE ALONG FIVE MILE FRONT REPORTED BY PARIS WAR OFFICE

CLAIMS CONTRADICTED

THE FRENCH VERSION

Paris, July 20.—French attacks in the Somme region were delivered last night on both sides of the river. On the north bank trenches in the Hardecourt sector were taken while south of the river all the German front line trenches between Barleux and Soyecourt fell into French hands.

London, July 20.—The French have resumed their driving offensive along the Somme in northern France forcing back the Germans on a wide front, both north and south of the river.

According to this afternoon's Paris bulletin the German first line trenches from Barleux to Soyecourt, south of the Somme, a distance of five miles, fell into French hands.

North of the river the French attack pushed east from Hardecourt and carried trenches along the Combes-Clery railway. The operations here are close to the right flank of the British advance, Combes itself being little more than three miles southeast of Longueval, for possession of which British and Germans are still fighting.

The French push forward at Soyecourt marks the furthest southward point carried by them in their offensive.

Berlin on Tuesday mentioned French activity there, declaring that an attack on the town was repulsed.

Hard fighting continues on the Austro-Italian front. Vienna re-

THE GERMAN VERSION

Berlin, July 20.—(Via London)—Repeated French attacks south of the Somme were repulsed by the Germans, the war office announced today. The French and British artillery fire developed to a pitch of the greatest intensity on both sides of the Somme.

120 IN THE SHADE

London, July 20.—The following official report from the British expeditionary force in Mesopotamia was given out today:

"Since the last communication of the 13th nothing interesting has been reported. The heat has been excessive for some days, the temperature in the shade has been over 120 degrees."

MORE CARS NEEDED TO MOVE TROOPS

Chicago, July 20.—In order to move the maximum number of troops on short notice the railroads of the country must have 8,700 more cars permanently at the call of the war department, according to W. J. Black, passenger traffic manager of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad, in a statement here today. Such an increase, he said, would allow the movement of 1,750,000 troops within 48 hours.

CAPT. OF DEUTSCHLAND DONS HIS UNIFORM; SUB READY TO LEAVE

Baltimore, Md., July 20.—Prepared to leave port at any moment, Captain Paul Koenig, commander of the German merchant submarine Deutschland, put on his uniform today for the first time since he landed here eleven days ago and for several hours this morning studied the charts of the Patuxent river and Chesapeake Bay.

When Captain Koenig went aboard the undersea liner he took with him a duplicate manifest of the ship's cargo and another copy was ready to be taken to the custom house.

Captain Koenig said he would not leave his ship again and indicated an early departure but said nothing that would give an idea just when the submersible would leave.

HEAT WAVE GRIPS COLUMBUS

Columbus, O., July 20.—One death and three prostrations from heat is the record of the last twenty-four hours of high temperature which is expected to be broken today by thunder showers. Mrs. Carrie Niederlander, 72, died. Bert Robinson, a roofer, prostrated while working on a roof, fell twenty feet to the ground. He was seriously injured. Richard Smith, a laundryman, and Andy Muko, a laborer, were overcome late yesterday, and are in hospitals. All are heat victims.

Owls Attack Children, Hats And Police

Findlay, O.—Screech owls are making life miserable for Findlay residents. Several children have been attacked by them and one woman's hat was torn to pieces when one of the owls flew down upon her. Patrolman E. Palmer, detailed to kill the owls, was picked in the face.

VILLA IS BETRAYED?

Galveston, Texas, July 20.—The capture of Francisco Villa by cavalry of the de facto government is momentarily expected, according to a cablegram received today by Jan A. Mateos, Mexican consul here. The message said a Villa messenger, captured yesterday by Carranza troops, told of Villa's whereabouts and that a force had been sent to capture him.

AUTOISTS ROBBED

Bellaire, O., July 20.—Six young men of this city riding in an automobile were held up west of here at midnight by two masked men and robbed of money and valuables amounting to $400.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Sandusky, O., July 20.—John Shisler, 25, of Berlin Heights, was killed by lightning during a storm late yesterday. Raymond Brundage, standing near Shisler, was rendered unconscious.

CHARGED WITH KILLING HIS MOTHER

WILLIE ZIMMER AND HIS SISTER, ELINORE.

New Orleans—Willie Zimmer, aged twelve, is in prison here, charged with the murder of his mother, whom he shot to death because she beat him with a broom stick. One of the bullets went through her heart. After he had slain his mother, Elinor, his eleven year-old sister, tried to kill him with a knife. The boy showed early criminal tendencies, attempting to burn his sister alive when he was five years old. The lad is proving a baffling study to students of criminology, and what should be done with him is a great problem yet unsolved.

HERZOG GOES TO GIANTS; MATHEWSON WITH REDS

Cincinnati, July 20.—President Hermann announced today that he had agreed with President Harry Hempstead and Manager McGraw, of the New York Nationals, to trade Charles Herzog, manager of the Reds, and Outfielder Wade Killifer to the Giants for Christy Mathewson, Outfielder Rousch and Infielder McKetchnie.

Immediately after the announcement Hermann and Hempstead went into conference with Herzog. It was said that if Herzog acquiesced to the trade, Mathewson would arrive here tomorrow to take up the management of the club. (Continued On Page Eight)

ONLY ONE CASE OF SMALLPOX

Port Thomas, Ky., July 20.—By Saturday it is expected the quarantine at Fort Thomas which was drawn when Private Herman Cress of F company, second regiment, Kentucky National Guard, was found to be suffering from a mild case of small-pox will be lifted. Cress is on the road to complete recovery. A thorough examination revealed no additional cases. About 100 rejected soldiers were sent to their home last night.

John Fisher of Eighth street, is ill with symptoms of appendicitis and may have to submit to an operation.

WILL FIGHT BRITISH BOYCOTT

New York, July 20.—Business and banking firms here have not decided yet just what they will do regarding the action of the British government in placing them upon its trade black list. Many of them have put their cases in the hands of the Merchants' Association, and the secretary of that organization is now in Washington conferring with government officials. There was talk of calling a meeting today to discuss united action and engage joint counsel but no definite course had been agreed upon.

200 REPORTED DROWNED

London, July 20.—Two hundred fishermen are believed to have lost their lives in a monsoon off the coast of Colombo, Ceylon, according to a dispatch received by the Exchange Telegraph Company. A large fishing fleet was caught by the storm and more than one hundred boats have failed to return.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS TOLL IS INCREASING

New York, July 20.—On only one day since the beginning of the epidemic of infantile paralysis on June 26, have more fatalities from the disease occurred than in the last 24 hours. During the period the plague killed thirty-one children and there were 119 new cases reported in the five boroughs of New York City.

The latest figures show that the mortality rate still is slightly less than 20 per cent. Since the beginning of the epidemic there have been 487 deaths and 2,446 cases.

Gasoline Way Up! Popcorn May Follow

Toledo, O., July 20.—Even the price of popcorn may be influenced by the high cost of gasoline. Toledo popcorn vendors are trying to decide whether they shall raise the price of a bag of corn from five to ten cents, figuring the increased cost of gasoline for their torches as a foundation for their deliberations.

CUBS WANT MOLLWITZ

Chicago, July 20.—The Chicago Nationals were reported today to be in the market for Fred Mollwitz, the Cincinnati first baseman.

President Weeghman would not say that he was bidding for Mollwitz, but asserted he would like to get him.

REPORTS HEAVY LOSS FROM FLOOD

Asheville, N. C., July 20.—Ten dead and great property loss at Alta Pass, N. C., was reported by W. H. Suttle, of this city, who has arrived here afoot from Alta Pass.

PLATFORM DRAFT IS CAUSE OF UPROAR

St. Paul, Minn., July 20.—Efforts to adopt the resolutions committee's draft of a platform without first printing and distributing copies to delegates, precipitated the first lively outbreak of the convention among delegates at the Prohibition national convention today.

The advocates of immediate adoption of the proposed platform receded from their position under the pressure of opposition from the floor.

The motion to debate without printing was withdrawn and the convention recessed until 2 p. m.

For ten minutes the convention was in an uproar, delegates standing on chairs and shouting wildly, while Chairman Patton vainly attempted to restore order. The majority of the delegates evidently desired to have deliberate discussion of the planks in the proposed platform.

The much heralded appearance of former Governor Sulzer, of New York, before the convention as an aspirant for the Prohibition presidential nomination did not materialize. Mr. Sulzer arrived in St. Paul and went to a hotel where he consulted with friends. Sulzer said he did not come to St. Paul to seek the nomination, but because a group of friends in the convention begged him to come and speak "for the good of the cause."

"I am willing, however, to lead if they want to follow me," he said. The proposed platform leads off with strong declarations for nationwide prohibition and woman suffrage. These planks are followed by...

The Young Lady Across the Way

Over at last and I'm satisfied that I quit just in the nick of time. Next time I have a vacation I'm going down to Abe Lincoln's old home place in Kentucky and split rails. Leastwise I ain't gonna spend no more time doin' nothin'—that's th' hardest job I know of. Here's for tomorrow: Ohio—Thunder showers this afternoon and tonight. Friday partly cloudy. Kentucky—Thunder showers this afternoon or tonight. Friday fair. West Virginia—Partly cloudy tonight and Friday, probably showers.

The Young Lady
Across the Way

We asked the young lady across the way if she believed in a protective tariff and she said she supposed there must be some good arguments for it but for her part it didn't seem exactly right to tax our manufacturers on everything they sold abroad.

Certificates Issued By The County School Examiners

The board of County School Examiners met at the offices of Prof. E. McCowen, county superintendent, recently and issued the following certificates:

One Year Elementary
Nelle Barney, Sadie G. Carter, Genevieve Dearford, Mayme Frische, Evelyn Hunsinger, Edna Kaltenback, Blanche Jackson, Myrtle Kinker, Edna Lewis, Lucille Mayhew, Goldie Neff, Anna Potts, Mona Wheeler, Walter Heller, Lee Howard, Robert Pool, Jacob Ralston, John Sauer, Raymond Monroe.

PUPILS MUST ENROLL IF A NORMAL IS TO BE HELD IN THE COUNTY THIS YEAR

The following article explains about the Scioto County Normal School for the Training of Teachers. It will be of special interest to all who are preparing to teach:

"Under the new school code a County Normal School for the training of teachers may be established in connection with a First Grade High School of the County School District. The State of Ohio will give $1,000.00 to pay the Normal Director to teach at least 100 pupils in the year and the District Superintendent may be required to teach in it by the County Board of Education, for which none receives additional pay. The Training School for Scioto County was located by the State Department of Public Instruction at Wheelersburg, and a summer session of it was conducted in 1915. The state paid the Normal Director for 6 weeks, and the County and District Superintendents taught in the school. The State Department of Public Instruction, however, later ruled that no summer sessions of County Normals would be permitted to be conducted in 1916. No Annual Session of the County Normal has yet been held. The school will be opened just as soon as there is a sufficient demand to permit it to be opened.

"A certain number of students must enroll for the entire school year of 36 weeks, beginning in September, before the school can be opened. The number required for last year was 10. The rules governing the administration of the school are fixed by the State Department of Public Instruction. Its ruling that students who are not graduates of a First Grade High School must do a certain part of their work in the High School at the same time that they are doing the other part of their work in the County Normal makes the school especially intended for graduates of First Grade High Schools.

"No person who has taught, excepting those holding renewable certificates or graduates of approved colleges, can be granted a teacher's Elementary Certificate by a County Board of School Examiners in 1917, without 12 weeks of professional training; in 1918, 15 weeks; in 1919, 24 weeks; in 1920, 30 weeks; in 1921 and thereafter, 36 weeks. Under the law as it now stands, those who have never taught can be granted their first certificate in any year without professional training, but the next year thereafter they would have to have the normal training required for that year before certificates could be issued to them. A person who had never taught could be granted a teacher's certificate in 1920 without professional training, but no certificate could be granted to him in 1921 and not again until that person had secured 36 weeks of professional training. The real meaning of this is, that it is of little use for anyone to begin teaching after this year without training unless he expects to make teaching a profession, and therefore expects to get the full amount of training required before teaching the second year. It is therefore plain to be seen that it is very advisable for all persons in Scioto County who expect to teach, who graduated from First Grade High Schools in 1916 to arrange to attend the County Normal during the coming year. It will be still more necessary for the graduates of 1917 to attend the County Normal, beginning September, 1917. The requirements of professional training apply only to those who expect to teach in rural or village schools of county school districts in Ohio.

Careless Use of Soap Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulled coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulled coconut oil at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few cents will supply every member of the family for months.

"The County Normal will not be opened at Wheelersburg in September, 1916, unless at least 10 graduates of First Grade High Schools notify the County Superintendent, E. O. McCowen, by August 10, 1916, that they will attend for the full year of 36 weeks. The credits they receive will count for not to exceed 24 semester hours on the 2 year Normal Diploma of a State Normal College, i. e., a person who graduated from the one year course of a County Normal can attend a State Normal College one year and a summer session of 6 weeks and receive the two-year Normal Diploma from it. Holders of two-year Normal Diplomas receive $50.00 per month in state aid districts. The 36 weeks will also carry a county teacher's certificate for one year without examination. It also completely satisfies the requirement of professional training to teach in the rural schools for any year. It would seem that the First Grade High Schools of Portsmouth and Scioto County could easily supply more than 10 for the Normal. The interruption line running through Wheelersburg would make the school easy of access.

"The responsibility of the opening of the school in 1916 will now rest upon those who ought to take the training, as it cannot be opened without a sufficient number. There are five graduates of First Grade High Schools who have already said they would attend, but this is not enough to open the school, as indicated above. It is not the policy of the State Department to expect any county superintendent to solicit persons to attend this school. It will be provided if there be a sufficient demand, but those desiring the training will have to take the initiative. Remember that the county superintendent must be notified of the intention to attend for the full time by a sufficient number on or before August 10, 1916, or the school will not be opened this year.

"If the school should not open this year because of an insufficient demand, it is very probable that it will open September, 1917, because the requirements of the law are such that it will be even more necessary then, for the training desired to get the training first."

E. O. McCOWEN,
County Superintendent.

PARISIAN SAGE

Puts Hair on Your Head and Helps to Keep It There

What's the use of being bald? What sense is there in deliberately allowing your hair to turn gray?

Do you want to look old before your time? Give up the thought: old age will come all its own.

Look after your hair. Parisian Sage is a scientific preparation that supplies the needs of just what you want. It cures itching scalp, dandruff, and keeps the hair from falling out. It is a most refreshing, pleasant and invigorating hair dressing and absolutely harmless to the hair and scalp.

Man or woman, no matter how old you are, Parisian Sage will help you to look younger and more attractive.

Why not go to Fisher and Streich's and get a large bottle today. It will not cost more than 50 cents, and your money back if it does not cure dandruff, stop falling hair, or itching of the scalp. It will make your hair luxuriant, bright and beautiful. It is a most refreshing, pleasant and invigorating hair dressing and absolutely harmless to the hair and scalp.

SOCIETY

A safe and sane Fourth was spent at the home of W. R. Oney, of Ray, O., by about thirty of his friends and relatives in honor of his sixtieth birthday. This came as a complete surprise to Mr. Oney, but his greatest surprise was a visit from one of his brothers he had not seen for twenty-four years. At noon a sumptuous dinner was served under the grape arbor over which the stars and stripes waved. About 3 o'clock everyone was invited back to the grape arbor, where they were served with ice cream and cake. Mr. A. Barland was there with his life and furnished music, while the others enjoyed the refreshments. Those present were: Messrs. John Oney, of Rushtown; Emory Oney, of South Charleston; David Oney, Chillicothe; D. W. Dixon, Columbus; J. R. Wilson and Mrs. Lilian Snyder, Chillicothe; Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Barland and sons, Earl and Delbert, of Covington, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Emory Oney and little daughter, Gertrude Evelyn, Chillicothe; and Mrs. J. J. Oney and daughters, Audrey and Mildred, Coalton; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lewis; Mrs. Myrtle Rigg, Mr. and Mrs. A. Barland, John Hannan, Bessie and Lucille Rigg, Della, Harold and Willie Oney and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Oney, all of Ray, O. Mr. Oney was the recipient of several fine presents. All departed in the evening wishing him many more such birthdays. It was a Fourth long to be remembered by all—Jackson Sun.

MISSING MAN TURNS UP SAFE; HAD BEEN SICK

Hiram Mullins, 53, of 2909 Gallia street, East Portsmouth, who had been missing, arrived home Wednesday afternoon, shortly after his wife and daughter, Miss Estella Mullins, had started on a trip through Kentucky in search of him.

Mullins had not been heard of for ten days and telegrams to him were never answered, causing relatives to believe some mishap had befallen him. Mullins started for a visit to his brothers, on the other side of the Cumberland mountains in Kentucky. He was taken ill shortly after arriving there and for that reason never wrote. The telegrams were never received, the nearest telegraph station being at Jenkinsburg, Ky., some ten miles from Mr. Mullins' home.

Besides visiting his brothers in Kentucky, he visited a brother in Virginia and returned home on account of his bad health. Mullins did not think his people would be alarmed over his absence, but as soon as he arrived home and found his wife and daughter gone in search of him, he sent a telegram to Pikeville, Ky., where he headed them off, the telegram being handed to Mrs. Mullins as she stepped from the train.

Mr. Mullins walks on crutches and was injured while working on the Scioto river bridge about a year ago. He and wife and daughter, who have been guests of their daughter, Mrs. Bernice Bon, of Gallia street, returned to their home in Columbus Thursday afternoon.

ACHES AND PAINS

Don't neglect a pain anywhere, but find out what causes it and conquer the cause. A pain in the kidney region may put you on your back tomorrow. Don't blame the weather for swollen feet, it may be an advanced warning of Bright's disease. A pain in the stomach may be the forerunner of rheumatism. Chronic headaches were more than likely warn you of serious stomach trouble. The best way is to keep in good condition day in and day out by regularly taking GOLD MEDAL HARRIS OIL Capsules. Sold by reliable druggists. Money refunded if they do not help you. Beware of substitutes. The only pure imported Harris Oil Capsules are the GOLD MEDAL.

Miss Blanche Henry is cashier at William Canter's branch store on Gallia street, Portsmouth.

Mrs. Rhoda Artis, Gallia avenue, gave a party last evening in honor of her daughter, Eric, who was 15 years old. The evening was spent in games, after which refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake were served.

Those present were Misses Margaret Canter, Mary York, Edrie Thompson, Arella Emory, Natalie Abrams, Edith Cooper, Francis Abrams, Marie Brown, Bessie Hoover, Myrtle Davis, Corn Stidham and Ethel Stidham.

Mrs. Charles Finney, Grace street, returned home Wednesday after spending several weeks with relatives at Columbus.

E. R. Stratton, Grace street, is building a three room cottage.

Mrs. Thurman Evans, Dayton, is the guest of Mrs. Thurman Emory, Harrisonville avenue.

New Boston Council

At the adjourned meeting of council Wednesday evening, an ordinance was presented requiring all members of council to be present at council meeting when notified. The ordinance provides that each member not present and without a good excuse, may be fined by the mayor. The ordinance also gives the marshal the power to arrest councilmen on orders from the mayor. All five councilmen present voted "no" on the motion to pass the ordinance and it was "tabled" indefinitely. John Emmert was the member absent.

A. E. Miller was allowed an estimate of $150 on his sewer contract.

Kelley Bros. received an estimate of $500 for "extras" on Gallia pike paving. Kelley Bros. were also allowed an estimate of $475 on their contract of building underground sewer at Peebles crossing.

An ordinance was passed repealing the ordinance passed some time ago, vacating Ohio avenue to the steel company, in return for West avenue. A resolution was passed authorizing the treasurer to draw two-thirds of the June tax settlement before the date of settlement.

An ordinance was passed authorizing the issuance of certificates of indebtedness of $5,000 for Grace street improvement; $1,200 for Center street improvement and $1,800 for West avenue improvement.

Council after having discussed the matter at several meetings, decided to pave Ohio avenue, 44 feet wide from Gallia street to the first alley south of Grace street.

An ordinance authorizing the clerk to advertise for bids for the contract of cutting Gallia pike through the Peebles addition was read for the second time and defeated, being laid on the table for a third reading.

A communication from the Peebles Realty Company was read in regard to the city building, a sewer on Peebles private land, east of the city's eastern corporation line. The sewer is 120 feet long built of 2 foot tile. The Realty Company wants the sewer reconstructed so as to be in an alley and street instead of on private property. The street committee and engineer will meet with the city street committee and engineer next Monday forenoon to go over the matter.

Curtis and Shumway, reservoir bill contractors were granted a permit to erect a platform on the north side of Gallia pike at the foot of their hillside tramway.

The schedule of bills amounting to $304.41 was allowed. A bill presented by Deputy Marshal Lon Rice and an estimate of Kelley Bros. for work on sewers, was also held up.

The semi-annual appropriating ordinance was presented and passed. The ordinance provides an increase in the rate of pay for men with teams. The teamsters will get $4 per day instead of $3.50.

Attorney Will Meyer was present.

Songs on the Top Wave of Popularity

THRILLING patriotic ensembles like "Young America—We're Strong For You" and "We'll Never Let the Old Flag Fall"; hits that are hits, like Al Jolson's singing of "I Sent My Wife to the Thousand Isles"; and comic and sentimental song-successes like "I've Got a Sweet Tooth Bothering Me" from Lew Fields' latest show "Step This Way", and "Songs We Used to Sing in Dixieland," a Remick song-gem that is sweeping the country. Music of a very different sort is Casals' marvelous handling of the 'cello in Saint-Saens' "Allegro, Appassionato" and Haydn's "Minuet in C Major."

Also in the August List

Kathleen Parlow's inspired playing of two brilliant violin compositions by Kreisler and Svendsen, Graveure's inspired rendering of two beautiful old-time hymns and Rothier's great basso in the immortal anthem "La Marseillaise," rank quite as high in artistic interest. As examples of another side of the month's list, here are

Music of Universal Interest

Varied and charming is the balance of the list: eight rhythmic dances; the Tartar Ballet from "Prince Igor"; (a veritable orchestral triumph); violin gems, banjo solos, instrumental trios; vocal choruses, quartets and solos; novelties on the harp, gypsy cimbale and Hawaiian guitar. Two Shakespearean orations add further novelty to this extensive and entertaining list—a list that you'll enjoy hearing at your dealer's.

Ohio River Is Falling Here, No Damage From Scioto Rise

(BULLSTIN) At three o'clock this afternoon the gauge here showed that the Ohio registered 19.5, a foot less than it did at 7 o'clock this morning.

According to John Flannigan the Scioto river began falling here at the noon hour and all danger of the lowlands being flooded this time has passed.

The Ohio river is receding here and at 9:30 this morning the gauge, according to River Observer Fred B. Winter, showed a stage of 20.5 against 22.5 at practically the same hour Wednesday morning, the river having dropped back two feet in 24 hours.

The Scioto river is still rising, but will do very little damage to the lowlands, according to a statement made this morning by John Flannigan.

"The Scioto is rising, but I can't see where it will do much damage in this vicinity," Mr. Flannigan stated this morning.

The following weather report was received at the wharfboat this morning from Forecaster Devereaux: Thunder showers over upper Ohio Valley this afternoon and tonight. Friday partly cloudy. River will fall at Portsmouth.

LEAVES HALL IN A "HUFF"

Indianapolis, Ind., July 20.—Jackson Boyd, former state chairman of the Progressive party in Indiana, and chairman of resolutions committee of the convention, resigned his membership in the party and walked from the convention hall today, following a tilt with W. D. Hendrick, chairman of the convention. Boyd had read a resolution opposing the naming of a Progressive state ticket in Indiana. Chairman Hendrick ruled the resolution out of order, on the ground that the call for the convention stated that a complete state ticket was to be chosen and was sustained by the convention when Boyd appealed from the ruling of the chair. Boyd demanded to be heard and when the privilege was refused him he resigned.

JURY TO GET BAY MURDER CASE TODAY

By five o'clock this afternoon the jury in the case of Captain William Bay, of Ironton, charged with the murder of Basil Kitts, of Greenup county, on September 26, 1914, will be given the case and a verdict is expected before night-fall.

The commonwealth, introducing seven witnesses, concluded its case early Wednesday and the defense introduced about twenty witnesses. Five more are to be examined before the defense closes its case today and the attorneys will make their pleas.

Attorney John Colclough, for the commonwealth, made an exceptionally able and clear statement of the state's case Wednesday morning and was followed by an equally powerful statement by Attorney Hager, of Ashland, for the defense.

The witnesses for the state were Ballard Hall, who was on the steamer Bay Queen with Kitts when they were ejected, together with Raymond Traynor and Basil Brown, and these latter two were also witnesses for the state. Joe Bennett, who was on the shore at the time of the shooting at Fullerton, Ky., and Dr. A. P. Hunt, who attended Kitts just before his death, were the other "two witnesses."

Captain Bay took the stand in his own defense and his testimony was essentially similar to that given at a former trial. He admitted that he did the shooting, following the ejection of the boys, who were all drunk and acting in a boisterous manner in the ladies waiting room. He testified that he ordered them to be quiet in a gentlemanly manner, and when they refused to comply with the order he and his pilot started to eject them and they left the boat, only to attack it with heavy stones when they reached the bank. He said that the shooting was in defense of his own life and that of his passengers, jeopardized by the attack of the drunken boys.

BEGIN WORK ON ROAD TO FERRY

Work on the roadway leading to the wharfboat and to the C. & O. ferry landing was actively begun by a large force of men Thursday afternoon and these long looked for improvements will soon be complete.

Crushed slag is to be used on the roads and they will be made wide enough for automobiles. A steam roller is to be used, and roads will be made as serviceable as possible. Council at its meeting Wednesday night appropriated $2,000 covering the cost of putting down these new road ways.

Lightning Burns House

Lightning struck a house belonging to Martin Violet at Givens near Waverly during a severe electrical and rain storm, Wednesday morning kindling a fire that destroyed the building. The family who occupied the house succeeded in saving most of their household effects.

B. & O. ENGINE IS DERAILED

B. & O. passenger train No. 60 due to leave here at 7:15 o'clock of a morning, did not leave until noon on account of the derailment of yard engine 1558. The engine and tender left the rails at Sixth street. The crossing planks were torn up and the trucks under the engine and tender were mashed.

ARRAIGNING PRISONERS

The ten prisoners recently indicted before the grand jury on various charges were arraigned before Judge Will P. Stephenson, West Union, in the court of common pleas Thursday afternoon. Owing to the absence of prosecuting Attorney Joseph T. Mickelthwait, who is in Kentucky on legal business, Attorney Edgar G. Millar looked after the interests of the state in the arraignment.

Out of the eleven true bills returned against the ten prisoners, five are charged with carrying concealed weapons.

The first two prisoners arraigned were John Dean, colored and Solomon Mack, colored. They were charged with carrying concealed weapons.

Dean pleaded not guilty and his bond was fixed at $500, which he failed to give.

Mack pleaded guilty and was sentenced to an indeterminate term in the Mansfield reformatory.

LOCATE VILLA AGAIN

Chihuahua City, Mexico, July 20.—Villa and his main band were in the vicinity of Amador about 30 miles south of the Durango line according to reports received from General Matias Ramos, at General Jacinto Trevino's headquarters today. The message which was relayed from Rosario, General Ramo's base was meagre because of the difficulty of telegraphic communication.

General Trevino announced, however, that the government troops still have the band, which consists of about 300 men, surrounded and that Villa's early capture seems probable.

OBITUARY

Eveling Rice Eveling, bright little two-year-old daughter of George and Alice Rice, of 625 Second street, died Wednesday afternoon after an illness caused by measles and complications. The funeral services will be conducted from the home at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Miles E. Welton Miles E. Welton, son of Miles and Adalia Welton, was born at Higbya, Ross county, Ohio, August 21st, 1900, and departed this life July 14th, 1916, aged 15 years, 10 months and 23 days. January 30th, 1903, he moved with his parents to Clifford, Scioto county, Ohio, where he lived until the time of his death. Early in 1916, while special meetings were being held in the vicinity by Rev. James Cook, of Ironton, Ohio, he gave his heart to Christ and joined the United Brethren church. He was faithful in attending the services and in the work of the church ever afterwards.

He leaves to mourn his loss, father, mother, two brothers and two sisters, John, Charles and Dora, at home, and Mrs. Edith Knapp, of West Jefferson, Ohio, and many other more distant relatives and friends.

It is hard for us to give him up, but we bow to God's will, knowing that all things work together for good to them that love God. We leave him in the loving care of the God he served with the hope of meeting him on the other shore.

Mildred Ramey Mildred, six weeks old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Okey Ramey, of the Boulevard, passed away at 6 o'clock Thursday morning. Death was caused by summer complaint. The funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home and interment will be in Rosemount Road cemetery.

James Wright The remains of James Wright, former resident of Greenup, Ky., who died at his home in Greenup, Ohio, near Chillicothe, Tuesday, arrived Thursday noon on N. & W. train No. 16, and were taken to Greenup by Undertaker Daehler Thursday afternoon. Burial will be made at Greenup Friday.

The remains were accompanied by the widow and six children, Richard, Thomas, Ella, Nettie, May and Kale. Charles Wright, of this city, is a cousin of the deceased. Mr. Wright was 51 years of age and moved to Greenup nine years ago from Greenup.

BIG SIGN FALLS

The rotting of a wooden support that held a large sign of the American Insurance Union in position on the Gallia street side of the Miller block is blamed for the falling of the sign to the sidewalk this morning. The sign, which had glass sides on which were painted A. I. U., was smashed to pieces. The sign almost struck a woman in its descent.

FRIENDLY RELATIONS TO CONTINUE HE THINKS

London, July 20.—Lord Robert Cecil, minister of war trade, declared in the house of commons today that he did not think there was any reason to suppose the censorship now exercised regarding press messages to the United States was at all likely to interfere with the continuation of the friendly relations of the two countries. Lord Robert made this statement in reply to a question by Arthur Lynch, member for West Clare, who asked whether "in view of the importance of establishing between this country and the United States complete confidence and cordial relations he would advise the abolition or modification of the present censorship of news."

CONFER ON CHILD LABOR MEASURE

Washington, D. C., July 20.—After conference with President Wilson today on the child labor bill, Senator Kern the Democratic leader, said he was unable to predict whether an attempt would be made to pass the measure at this session of congress. "I favor remaining here until the measure is passed," he said. "A great many Democrats and some Republicans took a similar position but there also is very active opposition. If the bill gets before the senate I have no doubt it would pass by a two-thirds vote."

The question probably will be considered by a Democratic caucus in a few days.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, July 20.—Market movements were more than ordinarily conflicting today, various special issues, Marines excepted, and to recent recoveries with extreme apathy in calls.

A break of six points in Mercantile Marine preferred, presumably in consequence of cable advices that the British government intends to impose a tax of 77 per cent on excess profits of shipping companies featured today's early dealings. At Janile, Gulf and West Indies which does not come under the ban of the British authorities rose 3 to the recent price of 66. Speculation of the more direct war class, including the prominent munition, Motors, Buick and Superior and Industrial Alcohol were variously higher, Alcohol adding 4 points to yesterday's rise. Bails were heavy, Sea coal 1 1/2.

Trading became more unsettled during the forenoon. Alcohol, after an extreme advance of 3 1/2, receded 2, and other specialties were similarly affected, though in more moderate measures. Bails displayed increasing heaviness, Canadian Pacific losing two points. There were some gains to counterbalance these losses, but mainly in issues of minor importance. Bonds were irregular.

Specialties notably: Mexican Petroleum, Alcohol, Republic Steel and American Car were active and strong in the later dealings. The closing was firm.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Chicago, July 20.—Assertions that beyond doubt the spring crop yield would be generally exceeded by black rust led to a substantial rise in the price of wheat. Unfavorable crop conditions in Europe tended also to lift values. The opening which ranged from a shade off to 1/2% up, with Sept. at 81.12% to 81.19% and December at 81.15 to 81.15 1/2, was followed by continued additional gains.

Prices closed strong, 1/2% to 3/4% net higher with September 81.15% to 81.15 1/2% and December at 81.17%.

Scattered showers and cooler temperatures had only a temporary bearish effect on the corn market. After opening 1/2% lower to a shade advance, prices rallied all around to yesterday's finish or above.

Prices closed nervous at the same as yesterday's finish to 1/2% higher. Oats were governed by the action of corn.

Absence of selling pressure allowed provisions to rise with grain.

OPENING PRICES

Chicago, July 20.—Wheat—Sept. 81.12% to 81.12 1/2%; Dec. 81.15% to 81.15 1/2%. Corn—July 79 3/4% to 79 3/4%; Sept. 78 3/4% to 78 3/4%; Dec. 6 1/2% to 6 1/2%.

MAN HELD IN POWELL MURDER CASE DENIES GUILT

DAVID BERRY AND SONS IN CUSTODY; INQUEST WILL BE HELD ON FRIDAY

Sheriff E. W. Smith and Fred Baker, special officer for Prosecuting Attorney Joseph T. Micklethwait, left Thursday in Guy Blinn's automobile for the home of Madison Powell, Back Run, Jefferson township, where they expect to gather evidence that will assist them in unraveling the mystery of his murder.

David Berry, 47, and two sons, Edgar 12 and Hanzel 10, are being held at the county jail by the authorities pending investigations into the murder of Madison Powell, 62, whose dead body was found near his home on Back Run, seven miles northeast of Lucasville, Wednesday morning, with a bullet through his heart. Although admitting that he and Powell had considerable trouble in the past year, David Berry maintains that he knows nothing of the crime.

Dr. J. W. Daehler, coroner, expects to hold a formal inquest at his office, Ninth and Offshore street, Friday morning at nine o'clock. Witnesses were instructed to be present.

The scene of the tragedy is located in one of the wildest and most lonesome sections of the county.

A narrow roadway leads past the Powell house, which is a three room structure sitting on the side of a receding hill, and faces the south. Below the road is a small creek, from the west bank of which rears a steep, brush-entangled bank.

These two towering hills, which flank the Powell home, terminate abruptly about one hundred and fifty yards south on the picturesque little valley of Back Run. This valley winds and twists through several miles of rough and hilly country opening out into an expanse of rolling land, near the roadbed of the new Chesapeake & Ohio Northern railway.

Mrs. Margaret Giles, a widow, resides in a little cottage at the juncture of the lane leading past the Powell home and Back Run valley. From her back porch a splendid view can be obtained of the scene of the tragedy. But the spot where the body was found could not be seen from there because the house is in a direct line valley. From her back porch a

HOUSES LOCATED IN FORM OF TRIANGLE

Taking the Powell home as a given point, the three houses are located in the form of a triangle, one leg of which, drawn south one hundred and fifty yards terminates at the Giles homestead and the other drawn almost due west for four hundred yards ends at the Berry home.

It was about five o'clock in the morning when Ora Stark, 22, who boards at the home of Mrs. Giles, came out and sat down on the back porch, at which place he commanded a good view of the Powell homestead. "I was getting ready for breakfast," said Stark on being questioned, "and was sittin' on the back porch waitin' it. Must have been about

M. F. NELSON DISCOVERED BODY

M. F. Nelson, laborer on the Chesapeake and Ohio Northern railroad, was on his way to work Wednesday. He came down past the Powell home. On reaching the house he discovered the body of the old man who had been living by himself for 16 years.

"It was about five-thirty o'clock when I reached here," declared Nelson, in describing his gruesome find. How I know, I pulled out my watch and looked at it.

"Well, I was just comin' down that hill yonder," said Nelson, pointing to a narrow path leading over the hill just north of the Powell home, "and just when I came out from behind those bushes I saw Powell lyin' there," indicating the spot where he discovered the body which was on

MONEY OF DEAD MAN FOUND IN ATTIC

Later Nelson, while searching for the money which the murdered man was supposed to have concealed about his home, discovered the hoard stored away in a tobacco box in the attic. There were nineteen $20 bills and two $10 bills. This money is now in the possession of Dr. J. W. Daehler.

It was about one o'clock when Deputy Sheriff Rome Arthur and Dr. O. R. Micklethwait arrived at the scene of the murder. There were already about one hundred men, women and children assembled about the Powell home. The officers proceeded directly to the place where the tragedy occurred and found the little home crowded with people.

The body had been placed upon a bed in the east room by Coroner Daehler. As the physicians entered the death chamber to hold a post mortem the crowd surged in.

The neck of a faded blue shirt was open, revealing a small black spot, just over the heart. There was no blood.

The murdered man was of

"COME IN AND MAKE YOURSELF AT HOME"

"Come in and make yourself at home," invited Berry when the party reached the doorway. Berry is a slender man, forty-seven years of age. He is about five feet six inches in height and will probably weigh 130 pounds. He has a narrow face, an angular nose, black penetrating eyes, a high forehead and has a heavy stock of black hair, through which runs wisps of grey.

Deputy Sheriff Arthur asked

"YOU ARE GOING TO THE CITY WITH ME," SAID DEPUTY

"You are going to the city with me," said the deputy sheriff, "so get ready." Berry nervously sat down and began to untie his shoes. But he did not ask any questions. He disrobed, put on a blue serge suit, a pair of new patent leather oxfords, a clean white shirt and announced that he was ready.

An examination of the chambers of the pistol plainly shows, the deputy says, mark of having been fired. Two chambers were powder marked. The others were rusty.

There was no resistance offered until the officer took the two sons, Edgar and Hanzel by the hands and told them to come with their father. Mrs. Berry, then remonstrated and followed the

ADMITS TWO MEN WERE NOT ON GOOD TERMS

"Then we went back to the house and told pa. That's all."

Mrs. Gypsy Berry, wife of David Berry, in answer to several questions, readily admitted that her husband and the murdered man were not on good terms. "He and my husband had been quarreling. My husband bought a horse from him. That was a year ago last spring. And my husband contracted to clear the brush off his field, a foot and a half deep and pile it in windrows. He did the

CLAIMS SHE DIDN'T HEAR ANY SHOTS FIRED

"Yes, we have a gun. It is an old revolver that don't shoot. The children play with it. No, I didn't hear any shots. We weren't up yet. Maybe that's the reason."

"Edgar and Hanzel went down to get the horses just a minute or two after they got up. The horses had broken out and had gotten into Powell's field. My husband had the headache and sent the two boys to bring them back."

"Then in a little bit they came back and said Powell was dead." Berry was born and reared in Lawrence county, Kentucky, about fifteen miles from Louisa, the

MR. BERRY GIVES HIS VERSION OF AFFAIR

While leaning heavily upon the gate that leads into the small yard which surrounds the Powell home, Berry told his story. "Well, it was something like daylight when I got up. Well, I called my girl Martha and hollered for her to get up and get breakfast. Then I got my wife up and told her to get breakfast."

"I have two boarders, Roscoe and James Berry, cousins of mine, who work on the Chesapeake and Ohio Northern railroad and they have to get their breakfast early."

"No, I didn't hear a shot. I stepped out in the yard and saw the horses were gone from the lot and I goes back in and told my two boys to go get the horses."

"Then I went back to breakfast and the boys came back and yelled from the barn lot. I understood them to say old man Nelson

NEVER HEARD DEAD MAN MAKE THREATS

"The last time I saw Powell Well, it was down to Giles' one day last week. I don't remember the day. No, I never heard him make any threats against me."

"Well, I told him I would whip him. Yes, sir. I told him if he talked any more I would whip him. Yes, sir. And I told him I would whip him if I had to come down to his house and take him out. We had a little trouble but never quarrelled. He was a sassy old fellow and we have been havin' it for some years. My stock breaks the fence down and gets into his pasture."

"I offered to fix it because he wouldn't fix it. I wanted to fix half of it and him half of it and he wouldn't do it. But I did see

WAS WORRIED ABOUT BERRY'S STOCK

"It seems like the Berry stock bothered him," said Mrs. Giles, in discussing the crime. "Powell told me two or three weeks ago that Berry had threatened to whip him if he had to come down to the house and take him out. It has been about two weeks I guess. Then he went up to see the township trustees about Berry shutting up his stock and he sent a note to Berry about it Saturday."

"Late yesterday evening I saw him cutting grass along the creek. Wilma Sampson, a little girl who stays with me, had gone up to get the cows and as she came back he helped her through the field. You know he has a cow and I have one. He keeps both of them and I look after the milk. This was the last time I saw him. And I guess it was the last time he was seen alive."

"Powell sold his place to a man named Elmer Hages from up in him to step out to the corner of the house while he questioned him about the murder and Berry complied. A few moments later, the officer and Berry entered the house and while they were standing in the front room, Mrs. Berry, at the behest of her husband, went into a back room and returned with a 38 calibre, blue steeld, pearl handled revolver which she handed to Deputy Sheriff Rome Arthur. He casually examined it, and later stuck it in his pocket.

HEALS RUNNING SORES AND CONQUERS PILES

"I feel it my duty to write you a letter of thanks for your wonderful Peterson's Ointment. I had a running sore on my left leg for one year. I began to use Peterson's Ointment three weeks ago and now it is healed."—A. C. Gibrath, 728 Reed St., Erie, Pa.

"I'd rather get a letter like that, says Peterson, than have John D. Rockefeller give me a thousand dollars. It does me a lot of good to be able to be of use to my fellow man."

For years I have been selling through druggists a large box of PETERSON'S OINTMENT for 25 cents. The healing power in this ointment is marvelous. Ezema goes in a few days. Old sores heal up like magic; piles that other remedies do not seem to even relieve are speedily conquered.

Virginia not long ago and he got $400 down. Powell was cleaning up his place and there was a dispute between him and Berry over a fence. Berry claimed that it was Powell's fence to keep repaired and the latter claimed it was Berry's. Then Berry's stock would break through and get into Powell's field.

"Yes, they have had several rackets. I heard them. I don't know what they were about. It was about two weeks ago that the two little Berry boys were coming through Powell's field and he wouldn't let them go through. Mrs. Berry was standing up on the hill and she yelled something at him. This is the only racket I saw but I heard lots of them."

Elza Carter, trustee of Jefferson township, said that Powell came to see him last Saturday about establishing a line between his farm and Berry's. Carter said that Powell contended the Berry stock was trespassing in his fields frequently and that he wanted some action taken.

"He wanted Berry to fix half of the fence and him the other half and he said Berry refused to do it," said Carter. "I told him he would have to serve notice on Berry and then if he didn't do anything we would take some action. Yes, he said they had a little trouble."

William M. Wells, employee of the Chesapeake and Ohio Northern railroad, said he came down on the work train about nine o'clock Wednesday morning and near the William Fullerton farm he saw James and Roscoe Berry, cousins of David Berry, walking north along the track. Both young men claimed that they had been home all day when seen Wednesday afternoon.

PHYSICIANS AGREE DEATH WAS INSTANTANEOUS

When the post mortem had been completed by Drs. J. W. Daehler and O. R. Micklethwait, the spectators gathered around the front porch and discussed the crime.

BULLET HAD PENETRATED HEART

In describing the wound, Dr. O. R. Micklethwait said: "The bullet entered between the third and fourth rib, passing through the right auricle, ranging downward and backward, entering the right side of the spine; coming out between the eleventh and twelfth ribs. The bullet was found about 2 1/2 inches from the median line."

The $400 which was found in the attic concealed in a tobacco box, was the money received by Powell as a first payment for his farm, according to Mrs. Giles.

Thomas Hartman and son Claude, undertakers, Lucasville, were on the scene early, having been called to prepare the body for burial, after the post mortem was held. Claude says that he saw Berry and was there when the farmer took his horses home. After the physicians had conducted their examination, the body was taken to the Hartman mortuary, Lucasville.

About 2:00 o'clock, the trip back to Portsmouth was started. Berry and his two sons were placed in the taxi, "Say Mister," asked Berry, "can you go by Lucasville and stop so I can get my two boys some shoes and stockin'?"

"Certainly, Mr. Berry," replied the officer.

On the way to Lucasville, Berry discussed the famous Jordan murder case freely, saying that he was acquainted with Roy Jordan, and had read some of the proceedings of the trial.

Along the road, he pointed out some of the scenery and commented upon its beauty, adding that it was his first trip through that part of the country.

He commented upon the heavy rains and said it had started about eight o'clock and lasted for about

CITY COUNCIL AGAIN WRESTLES WITH STREET FAIR ORDINANCE

Goes Over For Third Reading; N. & W. Men After Extra Street Car; Busy Session Is Held

Ordinances fixing the license of street fairs at $100 per day and regulating the stopping of street cars on the near side of the street were brought up for their second reading at the regular meeting of council Wednesday evening but were laid aside for a third reading when Member Wilson voted "no" on the motions that rules be suspended and the ordinance adopted.

Word had been passed around before council meeting that the street fair ordinance would probably go through on its second reading but Member Wilson still holds that $100 is too much to charge for a license fee for one day.

Ordinance Calls For a License of $100

The ordinance calls for a license of $100 for street fair, carnival or outdoor fair. Application for a license must be made in writing and with the application must be filed the scale of prices charged by the different shows. On June 7 the ordinance was introduced but defeated by a vote of 4 to 3.

Member Wilson leading the fight against the heavy license. Members Cramer, Rice and Roush were with Wilson but Wednesday night Cramer and Rice voted "yes," Member Roush being absent. It requires a vote of six to suspend the rules.

The street car stopping ordinance was introduced at the council meeting held July 5 but was laid aside when Members Wilson and Roush voted "no" on a motion to suspend the rules and pass the ordinance. Raymond York, general manager of the Portsmouth Street Railway and Light company was present but left as soon as the matter was laid aside.

At the start of the meeting the members scented a long drawn out session if the ten ordinances were read and passed. It was decided that only a short session would be held, followed by an adjourned meeting next Wednesday evening at seven o'clock when reports will also be made on the sale of the Hilltop sanitary sewer bonds and street improvement bonds. Council would have been kept in session until midnight if the legislation would have been ordered read.

Business Men Want Hitching Posts

Floor Leader Wilson reported a verbal petition from West End business men asking that hitching posts be placed on both sides of the Market street esplanade. The only place to hitch at present is to the awning posts in front of the stores. The horses standing along the curb attract flies and cause refuse to accumulate in front of the business places. The matter was referred to the service department.

A petition signed by property owners on both sides of Beech street, East Portsmouth asking for the construction of a sanitary sewer from the B. & O. sewer north on the east side of Beech street; a petition asking for a sanitary sewer in the alley between Eleventh and Gallia west of Lawson street; petition asking for a sanitary sewer in the alley between Walnut and Gallia street east from Chestnut street to Beech street, were referred to the street committee.

Mayor Kaps presented a petition given to him in present and it was signed by 300 or more N. & W. shop and ruin employees asking that council take up with the street railway officials the matter of adding another car to the No. 2 run which gets to the Terminal at 5:40 a. m. The petition says that the two cars now run on No. 2 are not sufficient to carry the large number of employees and that a large number are being inconvenienced. The mayor reported a like ordinance signed by steel plant men and had been presented to the street railway company. A committee of two, one from the N. & W. shops and one from the steel mill had called on the mayor and asked that he take up the matter with council. The mayor also reported that the men are after a "night owl" car, one that will run all night after the other cars had stopped. N. & W. trainmen arriving in the city between 1:30 and 4:30 are asking for the "night owl." The petition was referred to the service department which will take up the matter with the street railway officials. Council went on record as favoring the adding of a third car and a "night owl."

Want Assessment Rate Lowered

Property owners in the Brush art addition on the north side of upper Sixth street presented a petition asking that their assessment rate be lowered. The petition was referred to the law and claims committee.

Member Rice reported the crossing at Thirteenth and Railroad streets in bad shape and that property owners in the vicinity had made complaints. The service department will take up the matter with the railroad officials. Auditor Zucker reported a net balance of $65,761.48, there being a number of overdrafts on several funds, while large balances were to be found in a few funds.

Mayor Kaps also reported that he had at hand a letter from L. C. Turley calling the city's attention to the need of an emergency water main at Damarin Hill. An 18 inch main is suggested as a temporary main to take the place of the 24 inch main should an accident occur to break the main at this point. The mayor's appointment of William Goltz as messenger of Germania Fire company No. 3 was approved.

Police May Use Motorcycle

Mayor Kaps also suggested and urged if council can see their way clear to get the money, to buy a motorcycle for the police department. The stealing of automobiles demands that something of this kind should be in the police department. It is the mayor's plan to have one of the night officer use the motorcycle in patrolling the entire Hilltop. This would do away with one policeman and one could be brought from the Hilltop to the business district. One of the day men would also use the motorcycle. The matter was referred to the police, fire and market committee.

Director of Public Service Ralph Calvert reported the engineer's estimate of removing earth and relaying brick, curb and gutter and sidewalks on Damarin hill as being $21,160. An estimate of $1,600 for the replating of Greenlawn cemetery was also read from Calvert's report. Fred Winter of the Wharftown company asked about a month ago that a better roadway be built to the wharftown. An estimate of $2,000 for the bettering of the wharf boat roads; an estimate of $494 for the Beech sanitary sewer; and an estimate of $263.85 for the Heinisch sanitary sewer were received and filed on motion of Mr. Cramer.

The report from the advisory flood wall committee was received. The report contained claims from a number of Mill street residents who have had gardens ruined by the flood wall. The matter was referred to the law and claims committee for settlement.

The gardens were torn up with the change in route of the flood wall at Sinton and Mill streets.

Must Out Down Expense, Says Wilson

Wilson, chairman of the finance committee, read the committee's report on the semi-annual appropriating ordinance. Wilson said: "In the January appropriation the finance committee was very liberal. We gave as much as the funds would stand. On behalf of the administration I wish to say that the money was handled in a very judicial manner, but in some instances the funds were overdrawn. The service and safety funds are not in the condition they should be by any means. We must cut down the expenses. We have gone the limit in making these appropriations and the funds must not be overdrawn. I will not be in favor of any legislation calling for the expenditure of money in excess of the appropriation."

Rules were suspended and the ordinance passed. An ordinance authorizing the change in the flood wall was also read. The flood wall instead of continuing up Mill street from Sinton takes a turn at Sinton street and runs south for about 100 feet and then east back of the Red Row houses which are now with the flood wall but which would have been outside the wall had the straight course been maintained. The rules were suspended and ordinance adopted.

Council Buys Martin Property

Rules were suspended and an ordinance passed appropriating $1800 for the purchase of the Mrs. Kate Martin property at Mill and Waller streets. The property was bought by the city as a right-of-way for the flood wall extension.

An ordinance authorizing the contract for the construction of the "Hilltop Sewerage System" was read, rules suspended and passed. The new sewer system is to involve an expenditure of about $42,000. The $42,000 bonds will be sold next Tuesday. The contract will probably be let at the adjourned meeting of council next Wednesday evening.

Chairman Riekey of the street committee reported that the committee had investigated the E. J. Ziegler claim for sanitary sewer relief at his Madison street property and that the committee had found that the property would

Little Oddities Unraveled From Life

A few years ago when D. Willard Gustin was private secretary to Congressman Robert M. Switzer, of the Tenth District, he became intimately acquainted with Col. John L. Vance, Gallipolis, who was a frequent visitor at Washington in the interests of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association. One afternoon the Colonel called at the house of some of the Union soldiers had entered her home, took her piano, rolled it out into the street and then held a celebration.

One opened the cover and struck up a lively air, while two others climbed upon the top of the polished instrument and gave a spirited dance.

The incident was condoned by the General, who apologized for the actions of his men. He told her that they had just arrived in the city and that the stern lines of military discipline had not been enforced, but promised that such incidents would not re-occur. Then, just before she left he said: "And, Madame, war is hell."

Worth $100,000--Works As Coachman

Chicago, July 20.—Although Wm. Beatty, coachman for the late James H. H. Moore, multi-millionaire, is said to possess property valued at more than one hundred thousand dollars, he is today performing the service which has been his custom for nearly twenty-five years.

Beatty had been in the employ of Moore for some years when as a result of his Diamond match operations the multi-millionaire had become a pauper over night.

"I was in an awful fix," Mr. Moore used to say, "I was worth less than nothing, when Beatty came to me. He had been to the bank and drawn out every cent he saved—$2,000. 'Take it,' he said, 'I got it from you, and you're welcome to keep it as long as you want it.'"

Mr. Moore accepted the sum to tide him over some minor transactions which brought him large profits and re-established his credit.

Then came the organization of the companies which brought great wealth to the Moores.

Moore never forgot the service of Beatty. He paid back the $2,000 many times over, and placed Beatty in the way of investments that netted him more than $100,000.

"Any one who worked for Mr. Moore would have done what I did," said Beatty after the funeral of his late employer at Lake Geneva.

Herzog's contract with the Reds stipulated that any deal affecting him must have his consent. Herzog was waiting at a hotel pending the conclusion of the conference in Hermann's office and McGraw went at once to the hotel and notified him that the terms of the deal had been agreed upon.

It was not expected that there would be the slightest hitch as it was known that Herzog preferred going to New York above all other cities.

The big deal was agreed upon after Hermann, Hempstead and McGraw had conferred for more than two hours.

Chicago, July 20.—Christy Mathewson, famous pitcher of the Giants, when informed today that the Herzog trade had gone through at Cincinnati said he understood he was to be made manager of the Reds but that he had not talked it over with President Hermann. The New York players involved in the trade had not been officially notified of the transfer early this afternoon, and none knew when he was to report.

FEDERAL EXAMINERS COMPLETING WORK OF INSPECTING O. N. G. CAMP

Camp Willis, Columbus, O., July 20.—Federal examiners expect to complete their work at Camp Willis today. The Cleveland battalion of engineers is the only organization remaining to be examined for physical defects.

Meanwhile the guardsmen are awaiting equipment which is necessary before they can be sent to the border. This equipment, known as "Equipment C," comprises the thousand and one little things that may be needed by an army in the field.

As soon as these supplies arrive from government supply stations, it is expected that orders before the Ohio troops to entrain for the south will not be long in coming. Federal physicians completed their examination of the men of the Second Infantry yesterday. Company C of Lima lost 22 of its 11 men in the examination. First Sergeant James L. Loach, Sergeant Albert B. Birdsell and seven privates were rejected from Company A of Findlay.

The examiners said they considered it a remarkable fact that in Company C, Company L of Sycamore and Company I of Kenton not a single man with defective vision was found.

State and city officials had under consideration today the problem of sewage disposal at the camp. City officials learned yesterday that the camp sewage is being emptied into the Olentangy river at a point above the city. They fear that offensive odors may result. An attempt will be made to send at least a part of the sewage through city sewers to be treated at the city disposal plant.

State and city officials had under consideration today the problem of sewage disposal at the camp. City officials learned yesterday that the camp sewage is being emptied into the Olentangy river at a point above the city. They fear that offensive odors may result. An attempt will be made to send at least a part of the sewage through city sewers to be treated at the city disposal plant.

Columbus, July 20.—Nine applicants today took the state civil service examination for the position of state sealer of weights and measures. Among them was Samuel Landley, of Circleville, present provisional appointee in the position.

RAILROAD PLEA MAY BE GRANTED

Washington, July 20.—Legislation asked of President Wilson by the railroads to postpone operation of some provisions of the Clayton Anti-Trust act, members of the house judiciary committee believe, will be enacted at this session of congress. The president, it is understood, approves the plan and committee members said today a determined effort will be made to put it through.

Judge Newman Fixes Bonds In Railroad Case

Columbus, O., July 20.—Judge Oscar W. Newman of the supreme court in the stay of execution of the order of state Public Utilities Commission in the Hocking Valley coal rate case, fixed the bond of the Toledo and Ohio Central Railroad at $150,000 and that of the Hocking Valley Railroad at $75,000. The bonds are to protect not only the litigants in the case but everybody affected by the commission's order.

In arguing on the motion for the stay of execution the attorney for the railroads indicated that if the supreme court sustains the findings of the commission they will carry the case to the United States supreme court. The appeal can be taken direct from the state to the federal supreme court. The railroads also filed petitions in error from the ruling of the commission which ordered general reductions in coal freight rates from the Hocking Valley and Sunday Creek fields.

G. O. P. COMMITTEE HOLDS A MEETING

New York, July 20.—William R. Wilcox, chairman of the Republican committee called the campaign committee together here today for the first time for the purpose of discussing the general features of the Republican campaign which opens actively next month with a month's tour by Charles E. Hughes through the west. Mr. Hughes looked in on the conference and conferred individually with each member of the committee present.

After the meeting Mr. Wilcox entertained at luncheon members of the campaign committee, the senatorial committee, congressional committee, and four officers of the national committee.

DOCTOR HAS CHANCE TO RECOVER

Boston, July 20.—Hospital physicians attending Dr. Wilfred E. Harris, president of the Massachusetts College of Osteopathy, said today that he had a "fighting chance" to recover from the three bullet wounds inflicted Tuesday by Dr. Elbridge D. Atwood, also an osteopath. Meanwhile the police are endeavoring to clear up the mystery of the death by poisoning of Dr. Celia Adams, Dr. Atwood's fiancée, a few hours before the shooting of Dr. Harris. The autopsy failed to reveal "When, where and under what circumstances this poison was received."

Dr. Atwood told the police he left Miss Adams about 11 o'clock Monday night at the Park street subway station and that he first learned the next morning that she had been found unconscious in her office. It was said today by the police that she regained consciousness for a moment and made several attempts to speak to a physician, who asked her if she had taken poison. She did not reply, but nodded her head. An analysis of the young woman's organs were being made today by a chemist to determine the nature of the poison that caused her death. Dr. Atwood is in jail on a charge of intent to kill.

INSANITY TO BE DEFENSE

Boston, July 20.—Temporary insanity will be the defense of Dr. Elbridge D. Atwood, when he is brought to trial for the shooting of Dr. Wilfred E. Harris, unless present plans are changed, it was intimated today. A predisposition to insanity probably will be established if this is possible. Dr. Harris, who was believed to have been mortally wounded, was making a remarkable resistance to the effect of the three bullets that entered his body. Hope for his recovery has been revived.

CINCINNATI PEOPLE IN FLOOD ZONE

Cincinnati, O., July 20.—Coroner A. W. Foertmeyer and relatives are much concerned over the welfare of Mrs. Foertmeyer and his brother Dr. Charles Foertmeyer, who are believed to have been unharmed by the great flood which recently swept the Carolinas and Alabama. When last heard from the Cincinnatians were at Bat Cave and Chimney Rock near Asheville, N. C., which communities were hard hit by the storm. Relatives have vainly endeavored to get word from them by wire, but it is supposed they have been completely isolated that it will be some time before they succeed in getting through a telegram.

Harry Levinson and wife, also of Cincinnati, were at Bat Cave when word was last received from them.

DRUGLESS HEALING

Tells How Nerve Insulation Quickly Stops All Pain and Allays The Inflammation. Even Rheumatism, Sciatica And Neuritis Yield To Marvellous New Discovery.

The nerves of your body are like electric wires. They carry the nerve energy (neuro-electricity) which is generated in the brain, to all the cells and tissues. The nerve sheaths are insulated to resist a current of about 4-1000 volts as has been proven with the aid of Lord Kelvin's galvanometer, an instrument so sensitive and accurate that for the first time it is now possible to measure the strength of nerve currents.

It has been found that wherever acute inflammation occurs the insulation of the nerves is broken down, making it difficult, and often impossible, for nature to heal the surrounding cells. Germs cannot live in healthy tissue, it is only through damaged cells that they thrive and spread. Obviously therefore, the right way to successfully treat inflammatory disease is to quickly repair the damaged insulation and enable nature to restore the diseased tissue to a healthy condition. Ion-o-lex does this. Ion-o-lex is not a drug. It does not contain opiates or narcotics. Its action is entirely mechanical. Applied externally, it penetrates the pores and surrounds the injured nerve sheaths with an insulating film. This quickly repairs the nerve lesion—you are well. Don't suffer another moment just go to Worcester Bros. and get a large jar of Ion-o-lex Unguent, it costs little, use as directed and if you don't say that it is the greatest remedy ever devised for conquering inflammation wherever it exists, your money will be cheerfully returned without question.

Suggests "Canopied" Sidewalks To Replace Korn Karnival Booths

Henry F. Bertram has been thinking.

In fact he does a lot of thinking and this time he has turned his thoughts to the Korn Karnival. He has advanced an idea which he firmly believes would solve the booth question attached to the Korn Karnival, and while it is labeled the "Bertram Plan" he says it was not his original suggestion.

In stead of having booths, berths, Mr. Bertram thinks it would be very satisfactory to have all merchants in the K. K. zone, canopy their sidewalks the same width and height and the effect would be pleasing to the eye, would give the merchants an opportunity to make beautiful displays in their windows and this would leave the streets free of booths for the various parades that go to make up one of the picturesque features of the Karnival.

"There is no reason why a plan of this kind could not be worked out harmoniously," Mr. Bertram said last night while discussing features of the Karnival. "No one would have to go to any great expense, as materials used in booth decoration could be used to canopy the sidewalks. The merchants could make their fronts as attractive as possible, and I believe the scheme would prove to be a success. It would require far less work than putting up a booth and every merchant would feel like he would want to do what his neighbor did and for this reason there would be no gaps like there are in the booths."

Millbrook Addition Co. Appeals To Steel Workers, Many Lots Have Been Sold

The Millbrook Addition Co., which recently placed 30-lots on the real estate market, report the sale of many lots and with a fine list of prospects on their waiting list.

The addition, which is located north of the ball park, and which faces Gallia pike, is considered by many real estate men as one of the best located plots in the county. The company is making a special appeal to the steel workers, having sent out circular letters to every employee of the Whitaker-Glossner Steel Co. The tract is located in close proximity to the big plant, which is destined to become one of the biggest plants of its kind in the entire country. The circular tells of the many advantages offered and adds, "We are enforcing just enough building restrictions to insure a nice class of houses at a uniform distance from the street that will make it a very attractive place to live, and appeal to the people that make their homes their first consideration at all times. "Millbrook Addition is located right and is just the right distance from your work. We have contracted for new cement sidewalks over the entire addition, and Rhodes avenue is to be paved through to the lake, and Lakeside avenue, joining Gallia street, and Rhodes avenue will be paved at the same time."

Quite a number of steel workers have purchased lots, but the Millbrook Addition Co., composed of Chas. Horv, Ben G. Harris, Ben Dillon and Merle Duda, are withholding names of purchasers for the present.

The sale of lots is in the hands of Merle O. Duda, who has an office on the grounds and who can be found there most any time.

WOULD DO CREDIT TO ANY CITY

Charles R. Warnock, manual training teacher in the local public schools, who has been taking a course of work at the Stout Institute in Peoria, Ill., has left Peoria for Chicago and writes that he hopes to be in "The City That Does" about the first of next week. Warnock, who has been reading The Times every day while away at school, writes as follows: "I am not the only one who reads The Times here. It is read by a dozen or more students and instructors who are boarding at this place. I heard a number of good things said about your paper. Will not tell you all, but the following is a sample: Prof. Chappelle, of College Station, Texas, said, judging from your paper, 'Portsmouth must be a good-size and hustling city. A paper like that is a credit to any city.' I told him he was right, and if he would visit our Korn Karnival this fall he would know Portsmouth was on the map."

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells which are likely to become permanent, causing stunted growth, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying powers are a result of dealing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly deprecated, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them willfully with narcotics.

James Walton, charged with violating the traffic ordinance, appeared before Mayor H. H. Kaps Thursday morning in police court. He was warned and then the charges were dismissed. Walton, according to the affidavit, had stopped his machine on the left side of the street. Mayor Kaps presented him with a copy of the traffic ordinance.

Goldie McKee, Red Light district, was brought into court to explain the charges of robbery made by Lige Horton, the name given by a fellow claiming Grayson, Ky., as his home. He said she had robbed him of $15. The girl contended that Horton came to her house Wednesday night and asked to remain. Later he claimed that he was robbed.

Horton told the court that he was intoxicated at the time. He was fined $25 and costs and the charge against the girl was dismissed.

Frank Holt was arraigned upon a charge of robbery preferred by a fellow giving the name of Elias Gent, a stranger in the city. The affidavit charged Holt with drugging Gent while at the "Incubator" Wednesday night and robbing him of $15. Gent failed to appear in court and two witnesses and the defendant were examined.

The defendant claimed that Gent gave him $6 to keep for him but denied the allegations set forth in the affidavit.

The two witnesses testified that Holt went to the Johnson and Johnson saloon, Waller street, and changed a $10 bill Wednesday afternoon and later in the evening changed a $5 bill at the Ray saloon. Holt said Gent sent him to the Johnson saloon to have the bill changed.

The case was continued until Gent appears in court.

No Admission Charged To The Elk Jubilee; Shows In Good Shape

The Elks' Big Jubilee in York Park is now in full swing and large crowds are looked for during the balance of the week. No admission is being charged at the gate and a big crowd attended the various shows last night. The River City band is on hand each evening to enliven matters and York Park will no doubt be thronged the remaining three nights of the week. All Elks are urged to turn out the balance of the week. Each of the 11 shows is in running order and will no doubt be liberally patronized during the remainder of the week.

Brass Thieves Admit Guilt, Bound Over

Sheriff E. W. Smith returned Thursday with Leonard Nichols and Elmer Snyder, two prisoners recently released from the Kentucky state penitentiary, Frankfort, Ky., and placed them in the county jail on a charge of stealing 330 pounds of brass from the Norfolk and Western railway, July 1, 1915. They were arraigned before Squire John W. Bryan Thursday morning and pleaded guilty. They were bound over to grand jury without bond.

Nichols and Snyder were sent to the Kentucky penitentiary about a year ago from Morehead, Ky., on a charge of stealing brass from the Chesapeake and Ohio railway. Their terms expired July 19.

Vanceburg Notes

The following items of interest appeared in this week's issue of the Vanceburg Sun:

"Miss Mary Briggs and Lowell Lance, of Portsmouth, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Elliott Saturday and Sunday.

"Mrs. Gordon Green and three children returned to their home at Portsmouth last Wednesday after a visit with relatives here.

"No one has taken charge of the Carter House yet but it is being kept open for their regular trade for lodging and arrangements have been made with Bruce Parker to care for those who want their meals also.

"Dr. A. L. Test, of Portsmouth, was called in consultation Monday in the case of Eloise, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rice. The case has developed into spinal meningitis and there is little hope for the child's recovery.

"J. B. Frastick and wife, Morris Williams and wife, of Portsmouth, and Jas. E. Darragh and wife, of Quincy, attended the funeral of Miss Rebecca Burris here Sunday.

"Mrs. F. L. Holland and little daughter, Kathryn, returned last week from Portsmouth where they had been on a visit to relatives.

"Mr. and Mrs. Fleming Jones, of Stricklett, visited Mr. and Mrs. Asa Burris at Portsmouth Saturday and Sunday.

"Mrs. John Tolle, aged 38, was found dead in bed at her home on Southern avenue Monday morning. Coroner H. M. Bertram held an inquest and rendered a verdict that she came to her death from natural causes. She is survived by her husband and six children, the youngest being less than seven weeks old.

"The new system of starting all country schools on the same day was put into effect Monday, and is quite an improvement over the old system of starting schools in a haphazard way.

"Henry Hammen and Operator W. S. Sturgell heard a commotion in the former's chicken house at St. Paul Tuesday night and on investigation found the intruder to be a black bear cub which weighed about 100 pounds. They killed the chicken thief and had a feast of bear meat. This bear has been seen about St. Paul for some time but no one seems to know where it came from.

"W. H. Sexton returned Monday from a visit with relatives in Portsmouth."

Cadillac Adopts New Local Policy

An interesting announcement to all Cadillac owners in this territory has been made by C. C. Robertson, representing the Towle-Cadillac company, Cincinnati.

The same direct factory service accorded to Cincinnati owners will be rendered to all local owners. E. V. Ohlinger, factory service man, will spend from ten days to two weeks each month in Portsmouth with competent factory mechanics and the needs and adjustments desired by all owners will be competently cared for.

A stock of parts from which two complete cars could be assembled are carried at Cincinnati. And the new policy is expected to be quite a boon to the local Cadillac owners.

CARTER MAY BE RED Will Join Brewers

According to information sent out from Cincinnati, the Reds will very likely buy Nick Carter from the Indianapolis team. Carter formerly wore a Portsmouth uniform. Carter has won 13 and lost 2 games for the Hoosiers this season.

After bidding their many friends in the city goodbye, Catcher William Dillhoefer and Left Fielder Austin McHenry left Thursday for Milwaukee, where they will join the Brewers. They are to get a thorough trial with this team.

KEEPING ABREAST WITH SPORTING TREND

Pitcher Ferguson Is Sold To Rockymount Of The Virginia League

At the conclusion of an extended conversation with President Garry Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati Reds, over the long distance telephone Wednesday evening, President Gableman announced that no agreement was reached toward sending Pitcher John Ferguson to Richmond and instead of going to the latter city Ferguson was sold to the Rocky Mount, N. C. team, now managed by Ray Ryan. Ferguson expects to leave for Rocky Mount, N. C. Thursday and his friends here are confident he will more than hold his own. Ryan has been after Ferguson for some time and the Portsmouth phenom now safely anchored to his pitching staff expects to cop the second half of the Virginia league race. Ferguson would have welcomed the chance at Cincinnati, but will go to Rocky Mount with the determination to pitch himself out of the bushes by the end of the season.

Mr. Herrmann promised to keep his weather eye on "Fergy" and informed President Gableman that the Reds will land the Tennessee lad if he shows the same brilliancy in the Virginia league as he marked his work in the now defunct N. E. L. Ferguson carries the best wishes of all Portsmouth and will soon be heard from in the big show.

When Matty Was Found

The plan to make Christy Mathewson, manager of the Reds has turned the drift of thought back just 16 years. For 16 years ago Cincinnati drafted Matty from Norfolk, in the Virginia league, and then, a short while later, traded him to New York for Amos Rusie.

This deal was worth at least half a million dollars to the New York club, for, while Rusie soon plunged headlong into human view, the Norfolk recruit began at once the greatest pitching that baseball has ever known.

For, while Rusie won but few games for the Reds in 1890, Mathewson in 16 years has won 308 games for New York, against 175 defeats. And in five of those 16 years Mathewson has been one of the premier factors in lifting the Giants into first place.

ONE MINUTE TALK WITH PLAYERS

Joe Bush, of the Philadelphia Athletics:

"I am convinced that the Cleveland Indians have been getting the signs of their opponents. Why, the old world's champion Athletics never developed a more vicious attack than the Indians unraveled against us when we last visited Cleveland. They just simply laid up against everything we could offer and slammed it all over the place.

PITCHER REEB O. K. AGAIN

With his displaced ribs safely anchored in their respective sockets of his vertebra, Pitcher Reeb, of Columbus, who had been out of the game for five weeks, joined the team at Chillicothe Tuesday night, only to learn that the league had blown. Reeb made the trip to Portsmouth and spent Wednesday renewing old acquaintanceship. He was the only southpaw on the local staff, and a blamed good one, too.

While pitching at Millbrook Park one sultry afternoon, Reeb felt something was wrong in his side and as the result of a trip to a physician he learned that two ribs were wandering around. They were placed back in their original positions and Reeb left for his home where his injury righted itself. He does not know exactly where he is "at," but hopes to catch on with some Central league team for the balance of the season. Reeb hopes to so arrange matters so he can rejoin Portsmouth should this city ever again enter professional baseball. He likes the town and her people and would welcome the chance to return to the Peerless City.

May Close Herzog Deal

Chicago, July 20.—Manager John J. Herzog, manager and shortstop of the Cincinnati Nationals. He left here late last night after expressing to friends his confidence that he would be able to complete the deal.

TEAM HAD REAL CLASS TO IT

There is not a man on the Portsmouth team, but what could make good in a stronger league than the Ohio State and the fans are hoping that they will all land jobs before the week ends. They labored faithfully under Manager Spencer and are deserving of a better fate. There is always a rift in the clouds, boys.

DELIVERED HIGH CLASS BRAND OF GOODS

Locals fans are sincerely hoping that Outfielder Stewart Dills will catch on with some class B team. He is a natural good man in all departments of the game and he has given the local club his best efforts at all times. All ways willing to take any chance that would blossom into a run, imbued with a desire to win and always in good condition, Dills was one of the mainstays of the team as long as he wore a Portsmouth uniform.

Welsh Vs. Leonard

New York, July 20.—With Benny Leonard matched with Freddy Welsh, the Harlem boy's followers are getting anxious about Benny's condition. Only 12 days remain before the boys climb into the ring at Washington Park, and unless Leonard has been boxing on the sly the bell may find the pride of Harlem somewhat short on speed and accuracy.

Battling Levinsky Proves Too Much For Dillon

BATTLING LEVINSKY.

Baltimore, Md.—In a ten-round, no-decision bout between Jack Dillon and Battling Levinsky, the hot-tempered out-pointed his opponent in all except the first and sixth rounds, in which Dillon had a shade the better of it, and the fourth, which was even.

Joe Bush Was Class Of Ohio State League

Many teams in much faster company than the Ohio State league, will be overlooking a bet if they fail to go after the services of Joseph Orlinus Bush, the best second sacker that ever played ball in the now defunct organization. Bush, who it seems will go to Dallas, of the Texas league, was far away the class of the Ohio league at the keystone sack. In fact he stood head and shoulders above all the infielders of the league from a fielding standpoint. According to Manager Spencer, Bush is a real ball player, a finished product and would make any team in the country a valuable man. Then Bush is a fair hitter and is getting better right along. He hits the ball on the nose and drives it with all sorts of force. He hit better than .300 in the first half and was going strong until seized with a light attack of malaria fever. He is one of the most gentlemanly fellows in the game and a credit to the profession. Joe's friends here, and they are legion, will keep close tabs on his work, no matter where he goes. He has a brilliant future in a baseball sense and will be heard from in the big dailies before long.

PHENOM AT RUSSELL

At Russell, Ky., the fans claim the proud possession of an outfielder named Lewis Higgs, whom the whole neighborhood believes is destined to be a major leaguer. Higgs, who is about the size of Earl Neale, has stolen 14 bases season, and in short, is the whole works in that section of Kentucky.

Walter Schang Is Injured

DEMONE GETS OFFER FROM ROCHESTER

Shortstop Demone, generally regarded as the class of the O. S. L. at the short field, has received a very flattering offer from the Rochester team of the International League, and will probably accept the same, although he is in no hurry figuring that a few days' rest will not do him any particular harm. Demone has been in every game played by the locals, not missing an inning of play. He was one of the most popular players on the local roster and one of the most aggressive players that ever pulled a shirt over his head. They play pretty fast ball in the International league, but from a fielding standpoint the diminutive Demone will more than hold his own. He takes a wicked cut

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CAR

Costly chrome vanadium steel, to the extent of one-eighth of its total weight, is used in the construction of each and every car.

Two hundred ninety-two and one-half pounds of this—very finest steel—is not an exceptional instance of the employment of fine materials. Every part, every process, is determined upon the same high plan of quality.

The gasoline consumption is unusually low. The tire mileage is unusually high. The price of the Touring Car or Roadster complete is $189 (f. o. b. Detroit).

DEATH LIST INCREASES; PROPERTY DAMAGE FROM FLOOD RUNS INTO MILLIONS

Asheville, N. C., July 20.—The list of deaths from Sunday's flood in five Southeastern states, which has been constantly growing as communications were restored, stood at 73 today, with nine persons reported missing. Most of the deaths have been in Western North Carolina.

Investigators returning yesterday from isolated mountain hamlets brought reports that raised the death toll from yesterday's 34.

Property loss also has been heavy, great damage having been done to railroad, industrial plants and agricultural interests. This has been confined to a great extent to the Carolinas, but adjacent portions of Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia also suffered.

It was thought Tuesday that $15,000,000 would cover all property and in a few instances have damage estimates been lowered as rivers returned to normal. The section directly behind around Asheville, including the Vanderbilt estate and the village of Riltomore, was one of the exceptions. Loss was over-estimated there, it was said, and it now is believed that the total damage to property in this section will not exceed $1,500,000. Efforts were being continued today by local relief committees to care for flood sufferers and repair work was being rushed, although it will be weeks before all railroad traffic will be normal.

From Brevard, N. C., where some 200 college boys are camped, came a report signed by the director of the camp, that conditions there are normal, the camp having escaped damage.

COMMISSION MAY SETTLE THE MEXICAN CONTROVERSY

Washington, July 20.—Announcement that settlement of differences between the United States and Mexico will be made through a joint commission is looked for in the immediate future. Powers to be conferred on a commission, if one is agreed on, have formed one of the chief points of discussion in preliminary negotiations between Acting Secretary of State Polk and Eliseo Arredondo, Mexican ambassador designate. Already reports have gone to Secretary Lansing, on a vacation, and to the Mexican government. Mr. Polk is expected to take the question up also with President Wilson.

Henry P. Fletcher, American ambassador designate to Mexico, will go to his post in Mexico City soon after August 1, if the situation continues to clear, it was announced today.

Adolph Hurth Home Raided By Thieves

Entrance to the Adolph Hurth, Jr., home, 822 Gay street, was gained by a sneak thief Tuesday evening while the family was away by prying open a kitchen transom, according to information received by the police, and the house was ransacked but nothing was taken.

At first the thief attempted to gain admission through a kitchen window and failed. A step ladder was then secured and the screen was torn away from the transom. Then the fellow crawled in. As he made his way through the transom, he tore the window blind from the door. All but one of the rooms in the house was ransacked.

Cut glass and silver were passed up, evidently, the police believe, the thief was after money. No clue as to the identity of the person nor as to whom the step ladder belongs has been secured by the police.

Peggy Hyland in "Saints and Sinners" at the Lyric To-morrow

"Saints and Sinners", the widely discussed Famous Players screen version of Henry Arthur Jones' world-famous drama, appearing at the Lyric tomorrow introduces Peggy Hyland, the talented beautiful star, to American photoplay audiences. In the stellar role of Letty, this dainty little actress is making her American debut via the screen on the Paramount program, so distinguishes herself that she is certain to become one of the great photo-play favorites of the nation ever night.

Are you a sinner? You need't necessarily be a deep-dyed, devoted pupil of Satan, to deserve this appellation. You need only be a weakling with no thought of actual sin other than an irresistible impulse toward self-gratification to be registered under this head by Henry Arthur Jones. This distinguished dramatist, who has made the world think by the force of his graphic, dramatic lessons, made this absorbing question the theme of what is conceded to be one of his foremost successes, "Saints and Sinners", which after a triumphant career on the stages of England and America, has now been converted to the screen by the Famous Players Film Co. on the Paramount program.

William H. Thompson and Anna Lehr in "Civilization's Child"

at the Columbia tonight
For the first time since he scored such a marked success in support of Billie Burke in "Peggy," William H. Thompson, the dean of the American stage, will be seen in a Triangle feature tonight at the Columbia, when he is presented by Thomas H. Ince, as co-star with Anna Lehr in "Civilization's Child." The veteran character actor, in this production, plays the role of a ward boss, who is responsible for the wrecking of a young Russian girl's life.

"Civilization's Child" is an original story by C. Gardner Sullivan. It deals with the effects of America's "higher civilization" on a little "barbarian," so ignorant that she believes only in good and happiness, and relates, in pathetic detail, the girl's heart-rending experiences in this country.

In the character of Boss McManus, of the underworld power, Thompson has a part totally different from that of Andrew Cameron, in "Peggy," but affording him a wide field for his ability. In the title part, Miss Lehr, as Berna, the immigrant girl, gives a most sympathetic interpretation of the "little barbarian."

Others in the cast are Jack Manon, of the underworld power; Dorothy Dalton, as Ellen McManus; Clyde Benson, as Jacob Weil; J. P. Lockney, as Peter Saranoff; and J. Barney Sherry, as Judge Sims. The production was directed by Charles Giblyn.

Exhibit Theatre

"Clouds in the Sunshine", Century drama is a fine two-reel story of the "dry" country, where water for irrigation purposes is the basis of warfare. Wm. Clifford and Margaret Gibson play the leading roles. Carr, owner of the irrigation ditch, makes an unjust raise in rates in order to force the settlers to sell. There is a battle fought between opposing sides, in which that girl's father and others are killed. The atmosphere is excellent and the photography bright and pleasing. The situations contain a good deal of natural drama and are well handled.

One of those screaming Sis Hopkins comedies will be shown in connection with the two reels and "See America First". Sis Hopkins is one of the greatest laugh producers on the screen.

At The Arcana

"The Gentle Volunteer," Rex drama is a four reel story of Civil War days by M. B. Havey, featuring Ben Wilson, Dorothy Phillips, Joseph Girard and Vivian Prescott. This begins with plantation scenes of an elaborate sort and her child to a cruel master. The mother escapes with the child but is followed by a bloodhound. The mother dies and the child is brought up by kind people as their own. She does not learn her negro origin until, during the war, when she enlists as a boy and sacrifices her life for her lover.

"Gambolling on the Green" is a rip-roaring L. K. comedy. The fact that it is an L. K. means it is the best in the line of laugh producers.

At The Temple
"Judgment Day" is the title of chapter 14 of "The Red Circle", June after being hailed out by her ever-faithful nurse, is exiled from her home. She goes to live in a small apartment. She decides to beat the red circle and there is only one way—will power. June is arrested on charges filed by Farwell. At the trial she becomes reconciled with her mother. Although found guilty, the judge does not pass sentence and gives June a chance to see if she has overcome the desire to commit crime. In the close she is married to Lamar. The final chapter of "Ned of the Navy" will also be shown tonight along with a good comedy.

At The Strand

"Sons of Satan" is a five-part Red Feather feature drama, a story of crime and detection. The company appearing in this is an English one and includes Gerald Ames, Louis Gilferi, Arthur Cullon, Blanche Bryan, Chas. Rock and others. This is full of thrills and sensations, all of a melodramatic sort. It is very entertaining throughout, in the same way that the old style detective novels are. False walls, secret panels, disguises and all manner of tricks are employed to keep the mystery moving. The plot is well rounded and contains many moments of suspense.

The eyes are one of the most delicate organs of the body, and are very easily injured. Nature always protects her most marvelous contrivances in special ways, and as an extra safeguard for the eyes, nature devised the lashes and brows. The lashes catch dust and insects and save the eyes many a hurt, while the brows keep the perspiration from running from the forehead into the eyes.

Complexion Fresh As a Daisy--Not a Wrinkle

In sight—Remarkable discovery of skin osmosis quickly enables women with sunken cheeks, wrinkles and marks of age again to become most beautiful, youthful and charming.

By Mlle. Mareix, Franco's Great Prize Beauty

It's wonderful to look beautiful and youthful. The Countess de Chavanne, who at seventy years of age possesses a remarkably soft, smooth, velvet-like skin and an almost girl-like complexion without a wrinkle in sight, told the writer personally in Paris that she owed it all to the discovery of skin osmosis. With this marvelous discovery every complexion, even the most aged, can be banished in three nights in many instances, and you can awaken in the morning with a beautiful natural rose colored complexion fresh as a daisy.

I have known dozens of hollow-cheeked, wrinkled, aged-looking women, who had given up hope of ever looking beautiful and youthful again to "come back" and again become most beautiful, youthful and fascinating in from two to three weeks' time by this wonderful simple method.

No matter what your age or what you have tried unsuccessfully, skin osmosis will positively bring you new beauty and youth. Simply wash your face in warm water at night and rub in a teaspoonful or two of this pure rosewater cream, which you can obtain from your druggist. In the morning wash the face with cold water and rub in more cream.

NOTE—The manufacturers of Cream Tokalon have had such untold confidence in their particular brand, that they offer to forfeit $300.00 in any claimable instance, if it can be shown that it will not banish every complexion, banish and give most astonishing new beauty to wrinkled, careworn, aged women in three days' time in many instances. It can be obtained absolutely fresh and guaranteed pure from Anderson, Jiro, or most any good druggist in this city.

Dear Miss Wise—I am a fine young man of 25 and go with a nice girl of 20. The only fault or bad habit I have is the use of tobacco and I intend to use this as long as I see fit to do so. Now Dolly, my girl keeps everlastingly after me to give up this "nasty habit" as she calls it and rather than be always quarreling, I have led her to believe I have quit. However, I use some when not in her presence. The young lady boasted of the fact that she was going to "reform" me to her friends, but she is sadly mistaken. Am I doing right in deceiving her?

Yes, if you have any serious intentions toward the young woman you are surely making a mistake in leading her to believe what you are. Only the comradeship that

A Fine Chance to Make Some Easy Money

AT THE SCIOTO COUNTY FAIR

TO BE HELD AT
LUCASVILLE, OHIO, AUGUST 15, 16, 17 and 18

Realizing that in the past many patrons of the Fair went hungry because no good place had been provided for a clean, sanitary service of meals, there is being erected a nice new building this year for that purpose and we want some good party to take charge of this service.

The directors are sparing no effort nor money to make Scioto County's Fair the best in Southern Ohio and they are of the opinion that "SERVICE" to its patrons is the only means of gaining a large and permanent success.

With this in view, this new, cool, fly-proof, large dining room is being erected. It will be in the center of the grounds, above the automobile and implement building, 100 feet long, 36 feet wide with a 5 ft. porch around the two sides, making it 26 ft. wide. The floor will be made of tongue and grooved flooring, sides and sheeting of dressed lumber, screened in on all sides. There will be a broad stairway at each end. Running water will be piped into the kitchen and a drain provided to carry off the waste water.

Sitting at a table here the diners have a good view all over the grove. There will be 10,000 to 15,000 people on the grounds during the Fair so you can readily see the opportunity that here awaits the right party.

A restaurant of Portsmouth could well afford to pay $250.00 for merely the advertising effect the firm's name would have on this building provided of course good meals are served.

Of course we are not expecting any price like that. We want some person to have this privilege at a price low enough so that he can serve the people well, and make good money for himself.

BIDS FOR THIS PRIVILEGE WILL BE RECEIVED UP TO AND INCLUDING THURSDAY, JULY 27TH.

Any One May Bid - Hotels Restaurants, Church Societies or Individuals

Please make two separate bids as follows:

One for serving of meals only, at regular hours, exclusive.

One for serving of meals only at regular hours, exclusive and of serving ice cream at any and all hours, with the understanding that ice cream will be sold by other parties on the grounds.

WRITE OR PHONE 4500-K CITIZENS

The Board of Directors reserve the right to reject any or all bids.

Woodmen Will Flock To Columbus To Attend The Statewide Initiation

Rev. McElhenny, district state manager, Woodmen of the World, will arrive in Portsmouth Thursday evening to attend the last meeting of the New Boston and Portsmouth Camps before the statewide initiation which is to be held at Columbus, Sunday, July 23, under the auspices of the Columbus Boosters' Club of Woodmen. The local Woodmen are to make the trip on a special train, leaving Portsmouth at 6:30 and returning, leave Columbus at 7 o'clock in the evening.

Word has been received by McElhenny from J. A. Merideth, Ashland, Ky., James McCole, Huntington, W. Va., and C. P. Reynolds, Kenosha, W. Va., stating that all of the cities in their respective states intended to send delegations to the Columbus meet, joining the Portsmouth delegation here.

While enroute a meeting of the delegates of the Tri-State Log-Rolling, to be held at Williamson, W. Va., this year are to hold a meeting and formulate plans for this event.

Both the New Boston and the Portsmouth camps are to hold big class initiations this week, this being the last chance to initiate men before the contest closes at Columbus.

Elaborate Plans Are Made For Daugherty Meeting Saturday

Judge A. T. Holcomb will act as chairman of the Daugherty Reception committee. This was decided upon Wednesday evening at a special meeting of the Daugherty Campaign Committee of Scioto county. Judge Holcomb will also introduce the distinguished visitor—Hon. Harry M. Daugherty, candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator who will be in this city Saturday.

Elaborate arrangements for the entertainment of Mr. Daugherty were made last evening at this meeting. A committee composed of John Staten and George Keller was appointed to decorate the Washington Hotel. D. Willard Gustin, secretary of the Daugherty Campaign Club was selected to prepare a list of automobile owners who would meet Mr. Daugherty Saturday noon and escort him to the Washington Hotel. In all probabilities Mr. Daugherty will come to Portsmouth by the way of Harrisonville from Marietta. Should he do this, the automobiles will assemble at the Gallia street esplanade at an appointed time and then go to Harrisonville to meet him.

A public reception will be held at the Washington Hotel Saturday afternoon, at which every voter in the county, regardless of party affiliations, is invited to meet Mr. Daugherty.

In the evening at seven-thirty o'clock, unless it rains, Mr.

Daugherty will deliver an address pertaining to the important state and national issues from a platform on the Gallia street esplanade. Should it rain, the meeting will be held in the Scioto County Republican Club rooms.

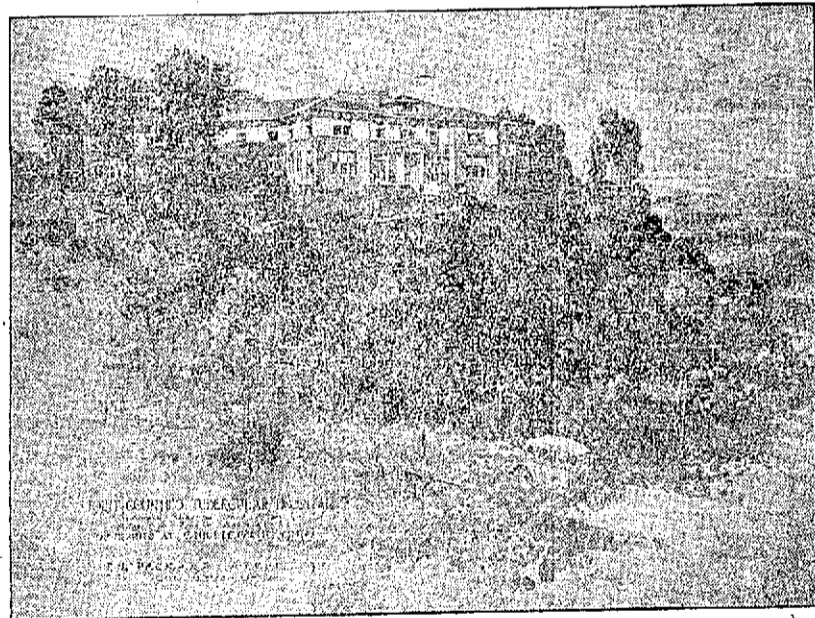

As the invitations were mailed to each member of the Scioto County Republican Club by the Herrick Voters' League of Scioto County, when Hon. Myron T. Herrick was in the city, so will the Daugherty Campaign Club mail similar invitations.

The reception committee appointed to assist in the entertainment of Mr. Daugherty, is:

P. H. Harsha, Ben H. Dillon, Philo S. Clark, F. M. Burdick, Judge George M. Osborn, Judge A. T. Holcomb, Frank Stanton, Clinton Taylor, Henry Walton, James Folsom, Charles W. Wilson, Capt. A. J. STORM IS MOVING NORTHWARD

Washington, July 20.—The tropical storm making its way up the Atlantic coast from the West Indies apparently was centered this morning two hundred miles off the North Carolina coast about eastward of Cape Hatteras. Very little information had reached the weather bureau early today concerning its intensity. The only reports came by radio from ships at sea in the vicinity of the storm. Latest dispatches told of winds with a velocity of sixty-four miles an hour, but these were from the edges of the disturbance. They indicated that the storm was moving slowly northward. Fresh gales and strong northeast winds prevailed on the coast from North Carolina to the Delaware breakwater. Storm warnings were ordered to continue at all stations from Hatteras to Boston, except at Baltimore.

GOING AWAY TO BE SHOT

That a woman intuitively arrives at decisions, and gets at the "rock bottom" of happenings, where men flounder about in mental fogs, has long been a common saying, and this was impressed upon us recently by the remark of a Portsmouth woman who had just returned from an automobile journey that included a visit to Canada. While there she, with her party, chanced to be at a depot when 1,100 Canadian troops boarded trains to go to the coast, where they were to take a ship for the blood-soaked battle fields in France.

To the men of the party it was a brave scene indeed. Flags were flying everywhere, bands were playing merrily; cheers resounded and the entire populace had turned out to bid farewell to the soldier boys. To show their good will the churches of the city had packed 1,100 big boxes of food, one for each soldier. The soldiers themselves were a fine sight to gaze upon. "Well set up, finely uniformed, splendid specimens of soldiers," as one of the men expressed it.

And then the woman had her say. "My, but it was a sad scene. I saw wives holding on, desperately to their husbands as the train started, running along the ground as the train gathered momentum, to receive a final caress. I saw a husband and father holding one of his three children, a baby girl of about three years of age. He leaned from the train, kissing the tot, until the train was going so fast he had to drop her to the ground."

"And I thought, 'What a shame it was; all those fine looking men, loving fathers, husbands, sons, going away to be shot.'"

There was the woman's intuition. She saw behind the glamor, the glittering trappings of war, the ambition for conquest, and saw the hideous, naked reality, "All those fine men going away to be shot."

May the day come soon, when war-torn Europe will awake to the hideousness of sending her best and bravest "away to be shot."

LOSS OF POWER TO THINK

A college professor made the remark to one of his classes in the summer school at Ohio State University the other day that he notices a marked deterioration in the mental capacity of young people of college student age since he first began to come in contact with them some 25 years ago. He said they seem unable to concentrate their minds as they used to. What they seem to learn now, he said, they acquire parrot-like. In short, they do not think.

We asked a high school teacher of long and successful experience if this is true. She said it undoubtedly is. Both she and the college professor attributed the unpromising status of the present generation of college boys and girls to too much scattering of interests. There are too many different things for them to do, their attention is constantly being diverted from one thing to another and the result is that they cannot fix their minds on anything and consequently do nothing well. Not only do they have a wide diversity of amusements, but the school curriculum itself is given over in large measure to a very wide variety of so-called studies which by the farthest stretch of the imagination cannot be considered vital or fundamental.

A return to simpler courses in school and to simpler living outside is needed, in the view of our college professor and our high school teacher. And we believe they are right.—Ohio State Journal.

RURAL STUDY CLUBS

Three thousand boys and girls in 48 of the Ohio counties are organized into clubs for the purpose of learning better the tasks of the home and the farm and getting a better appreciation of the possibilities, advantages and responsibilities of their rural life. In the organization of these clubs, Ohio State University, the state superintendent of public instruction, the county superintendents and the agricultural societies have co-operated. In the girls' "home-making clubs," they are learning food values, bread-making and methods of canning and preserving fruits and vegetables, while the boys in their clubs are learning to raise chickens and pigs, and to cultivate potatoes and tomatoes. There are to be tests and contests, each boy or girl wearing a button inscribed with the name of the contest entered, and the one ranking first in each contest is to be rewarded with a week's visit at Ohio State University, at the latter's expense. It is a thoroughly interesting venture, out of which much good should come.—Columbus Dispatch.

FOOTBALL IN SOUTH AMERICA

After a season's play by football eleven representing Argentina, Uruguay, Brazil and Chile, the eleven of Argentina and Uruguay met on Sunday at Montevideo to decide the championship of South America. Tickets were sold beyond the capacity of the stadium. The disappointed crowd clamoring at the gates added to the excitement of the international event. Uruguay carried the ball into Argentine territory. A goal from the field was attempted, but the ball sailed wide of the posts. That was as far as the game progressed. The crowd surged on the field, burned the stadium and defied the police.

The game was a failure from an athletic viewpoint, but the status of football in South America which it revealed makes it a significant event. Evidently football has so aroused the South American temperament that the organized enthusiasm of our inter-collegiate contests becomes a stilled, perfumery thing by comparison. International football games apparently have taken the place of the wars with which South Americans formerly regaled themselves. They have become safety valves for the transplanted Castilians.

It is to be regretted that the climate will not permit football among the more equatorial nations of South America. They probably will continue to regard revolutions as the great national sport. But the future is bright for South America of the cooler latitudes. With fireproof stadium and more vigorous policing, football should strengthen its hold on the public imagination and continue as the favorite substitute for the amenities of warfare.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

Everyday Wisdom

GOLDFISH

If anybody in the world knows anything about failure, it is a goldfish. There are not any rules in life that will do it any good. "Blessed are the meek," a goldfish can be as meek as anything and all it gets is more water. "A rolling stone gathers no moss." Nothing in that for a goldfish. "Silence is golden." There is a motto that must make a goldfish as mad as a hornet.

A goldfish just goes around and around. "Persevere and you will succeed." A goldfish knows that that is a darn lie, for it perseveres all day and ends up exactly where it started in the morning. All that a goldfish can get in the world is some fresh water now and then and an occasional hand-out of crumbs, and it can do nothing negative or positive to affect its supply of either of these commodities. It can be the sweetest little goldfish on earth and if somebody forgets to water it, good night, little goldfish. There are no rewards for character in a goldfish.

Life must be a mockery to a goldfish. Its environment is a falsehood. Its day is one rebuff after another. It lives under the delusion that it can go anywhere, but it can go nowhere. Glass prisons are worse than iron bars, because glass looks like you could get out. What does a goldfish know about glass? We'll bet a goldfish says a thousand times a day: "I wonder why I can't go anywhere?" It sees a plane over at one side of the room and starts over to play it, but it runs into glass. Everything looks attainable, but nothing is. This is one of the saddest essays we ever wrote.

Dickey's Patience

LITTLE MARY had never allowed her Dickey bird, the pretty little yellow and black canary you have heard so much about, to get out of his cage. She wished and wished that he might fly around the room, and she often thought about how pretty he would look fluttering about. But she was afraid to open the cage door, for some folks said flying would make him stop singing.

But one day a friend came to visit in Mary's house—a friend who had a canary just as pretty, and just as good a singer as Dickey was. And this friend told Mary that flying would not hurt a bird one bit—that it might even make him sing better!

Mary thought the matter over carefully for a whole day and then, the next morning, she opened the cage door. You should have seen Dickey! At first he didn't know what to make of the open door. In fact, he hardly seemed to see it at all. He sat some stood and flew about in his cage just as usual. And then, after a while, quite as though it was a mistake, he flew out of the open door and over to the window curtain. There he fluttered and tried to stand on the branches painted on the curtain, but as that could not be done, he flew across the room to the radiator. Now of course if it had been in winter time, when the steam was turned on in the radiator, Mary would have covered it up some way so he couldn't burn himself on the hot pipes. But this wasn't winter; this was summer and the radiator was as cold as cold could be and Dickey was perfectly safe on it. How he did like those brightly painted pipes! He brushed off his bill once, twice, three times and then he hopped to the next pipe to do the same thing over again. "Look, Mother!" called Mary to her mother, who came into the room just then. "Dickey thinks those pipes are perches! See? He wipes off his bill just as he does on his perch!"

The radiator was as cold as cold could be and Dickey was perfectly safe on it.

And then what do you suppose he did next? He cocked his head to one side, looked at the row of pipes, and tried hopping two at a time—skipping one, you see. He didn't hit it just right each time, no, because he did not always measure the distance just right, you see, but he kept on trying, till finally he could go the whole length of the radiator, skipping, without a miss. Then he flew back into his cage and ate his dinner. To-morrow—Mr. Crane Is Not Used To Bents.

DEATH LIST INCREASES; PROPERTY DAMAGE FROM FLOOD RUNS INTO MILLIONS

Asheville, N. C., July 20.—The list of deaths from Sunday's flood in five Southeastern states, which has been constantly growing as communications were restored, stood at 73 today, with nine persons reported missing. Most of the deaths have been in Western North Carolina.

Investigators returning yesterday from isolated mountain hamlets brought reports that raised the death toll from yesterday's 34. Property loss also has been heavy, great damage having been done to railroad, industrial plants and agricultural interests. This has been confined to a great extent to the Carolinas, but adjacent portions of Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia also suffered.

It was thought Tuesday that $5,000,000 would cover all property and in a few instances have damage estimates been lowered as rivers returned to normal. The section directly behind, around Asheville, including the Vanderbilt estate and the village of Biltmore, was one of the exceptions. Loss was over-estimated there, it was said, and it now is believed that the total damage to property in this section will not exceed $1,500,000. Efforts were being continued today by local relief committees to care for flood sufferers and repair work was being rushed, although it will be weeks before all railroad traffic will be normal.

From Brevard, N. C., where some 200 college boys are camped, came a report signed by the director of the camp, that conditions there are normal, the camp having escaped damage.

ASK GOVERNMENT TO INTERCEDE

Washington, July 20.—President Wilson today received a request from Henry Morgenthau, former ambassador to Turkey, Cleveland H. Dodge, A. Burton Hepburn and several other New York men asking that the federal government intervene in the coat makers' strike which has been in progress in New York for twelve weeks. The petition was made on the ground that the strike threatened the supply of women's clothing for the whole nation. Mayor Mitchell of New York is expected to write to President Wilson today endorsing the action of the business men. The president probably will forward the request to the department of labor with instructions that the bureau of conciliation make efforts to end the strike.

Worth $100,000--Works As Coachman

Chicago, July 20.—Although Wm. Beatty, coachman for the late James Hobart Moore, multi-millionaire, is said to possess property valued at more than one hundred thousand dollars, he is today performing the service which has been his custom for nearly twenty-five years. Beatty had been in the employ of Moore for some years when as a result of his Diamond match operations the multi-millionaire had become a pauper over night.

"I was in an awful fix," Mr. Moore used to say, "I was worth less than nothing, when Beatty came to me. He had been to the bank and drawn out every cent he saved—$2,000. 'Take it,' he said, 'I got it from you, and you're welcome to keep it as long as you want it.'"

Mr. Moore accepted the sum to tide him over some minor transactions which brought him large profits and re-established his credit. Then came the organization, which was the question that pre-dominated virtually every discussion before the convention was called to order this morning. With prospects that nominations would be late this afternoon, supporters of Sulzer eagerly awaited his arrival from New York at 10 a. m. and his appearance before the convention soon after. His confidential secretary, Charles J. Haaga, arrived last night and arranged with National Chairman Hinshaw for Sulzer's introduction from the platform upon his arrival at the Auditorium.

DOCTOR HAS CHANCE TO RECOVER

Boston, July 20.—Hospital physicians attending Dr. Wilfred E. Harris, president of the Massachusetts College of Osteopathy, said today that he had a "fighting chance" to recover from the three bullet wounds inflicted Tuesday by Dr. Elridge D. Atwood, also an osteopath. Meanwhile the police are endeavoring to clear up the mystery of the death by poisoning of Dr. Colin Adams, Dr. Atwood's fiancée, a few hours before the shooting of Dr. Harris. The autopsy failed to reveal "When, where and under what circumstances this poison was received."

Dr. Atwood told the police he left Miss Adams about 11 o'clock Monday night at the Park street subway station and that he first learned the next morning that she had been found unconscious in her office. It was said today by the police that she regained consciousness for a moment and made several attempts to speak to a physician, who asked her if she had taken poison. She did not reply, but nodded her head. An analysis of the young woman's organs were being made today by a chemist to determine the nature of the poison that caused her death. Dr. Atwood is in jail on a charge of intent to kill.

He paid back the $2,000 many times over, and placed Beatty in the way of investments that netted him more than $100,000. SULZER TO MAKE PERSONAL APPEAL FOR NOMINATION

St. Paul, Minn., July 20.—Whether William Sulzer, of New York, by a last hour appearance before the National Prohibition convention today, could rally enough delegates to his support to defeat J. Frank Hanley, of Indiana for the presidential nomination, was the question that pre-dominated virtually every discussion before the convention was called to order this morning. With prospects that nominations would be late this afternoon, supporters of Sulzer eagerly awaited his arrival from New York at 10 a. m. and his appearance before the convention soon after. His confidential secretary, Charles J. Haaga, arrived last night and arranged with National Chairman Hinshaw for Sulzer's introduction from the platform upon his arrival at the Auditorium.

COMMISSION MAY SETTLE THE MEXICAN CONTROVERSY

Washington, July 20.—Announcement that settlement of differences between the United States and Mexico will be made through a joint commission is looked for in the immediate future. Only final approval by President Wilson and General Carranza is lacking, it was said today. Powers to be conferred on a commission, if one is agreed on, have formed one of the chief points of discussion in preliminary negotiations between Acting Secretary of State Paik and Eliseo Arredondo, Mexican ambassador designate. Already reports have gone to Secretary Lansing, on a vacation, and to the Mexican government. Mr. Paik is expected to take the question up also with President Wilson.

Henry P. Fletcher, American Ambassador designate to Mexico, will go to his post in Mexico City soon after August 1, if the situation continues to clear, it was announced today.

Pitcher Ferguson Is Sold To Rockymount Of The Virginia League

At the conclusion of an extended conference with President Garry Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati Reds, over the long distance telephone Wednesday evening, President Gableman announced that an agreement was reached toward sending Pitcher John Ferguson to Rockymount, N. C. team, now managed by Ray Ryan. Ferguson expects to leave for Rockymount, N. C. Thursday and his friends here are confident he will more than hold his own. Ryan has been after Ferguson for some time and with the Portsmouth phenom now safely anchored to his pitching staff expects to cop the second half of the Virginia league race. Ferguson would have welcomed the chance at Cincinnati, but will go to Rockymount with the determination to pitch himself out of the bushes by the end of the season.

Mr. Herrmann promised to keep his weather eye on "Fergy," and informed President Gableman that the Reds will land the Tennessee lad if he shows the same brilliancy in the Virginia league as marked his work in the now defunct O. S. L. Ferguson, the best wishes of all Portsmouth and will sooner or later be heard from in the big show.

May Close Herzog Deal

Chicago, July 20.—Manager John J. McGraw, of the New York National baseball club, is en route to Cincinnati today where he will make a final attempt to obtain the services of Charles Herzog, manager and shortstop of the Cincinnati Nationals. He left here late last night after expressing to friends his confidence that he would be able to complete the deal.

TEAM HAD REAL CLASS TO IT

There is not a man on the Portsmouth team, but what could make good to a stronger league than the Ohio State and the fans are hoping that they will all land jobs before the week ends. They labored faithfully under Manager Spencer and are deserving of a better fate. There is always a rift in the clouds, boys.

SORRY TO SEE YOU GO

Portsmouth fans firmly believe that if Catcher Dillhoefer and Outfielder McHenry are given a good trial by the Milwaukee team they will deliver.

Both are hard workers, conscientious to the last notch and they certainly will leave many well wishers here. Dillhoefer was easily the class of the league behind the bat and McHenry is one of the best outfielders in the league.

When Matty Was Found

The plan to make Christy Mathewson manager of the Reds has turned the drift of thought back just 16 years. For 16 years ago Cincinnati drafted Matty from Norfolk, in the Virginia league, and then, a short while later, traded him to New York for Amos Rusie.

This deal was worth at least half a million dollars to the New York club, for, while Rusie soon plunged headlong below human vision, the Norfolk result began at once the greatest pitching that baseball has ever known.

For, while Rusie won but few games for the Reds elated, Mathewson in 16 years has won 366 games for New York, against 175 defeats. And in five of those 16 years Mathewson has been one of the premier factors in lifting the Giants into first place.

Battling Levinsky Proves Too Much For Dillon

Joe Bush Was Class Of Ohio State League

Many teams in much faster company than the Ohio State league, will be overlooking a bet if they fail to go after the services of Joseph Orlieus Bush, the best second sacker that ever played ball in the now defunct organization. Bush, who it seems will go to Dallas, of the Texas league, was far away the class of the Carr league at the Keystone sock. In fact he stood head and shoulders above all the infielders of the league from a fielding standpoint. According to Manager Spencer, Bush is a real ball player, a finished product and would make any team in the country a valuable man. Then Bush is a fair hitter and is getting better right along. He hits the ball on the nose and drives it with all sorts of force. He hit better than 300 in the first half and was going strong until seized with a light attack of malaria fever. He is one of the most gentlemanly fellows in the game and a credit to the profession. Joe's friends here, and they are legion, will keep close tab on his work, no matter where he goes. He has a brilliant future in a baseball game and will be heard from in the big dailies before long.

PHENOM AT RUSSELL

At Russell, Ky., the fans claim the proud possession of an outfielder named Lewis Higgins, whom the whole neighborhood believes is destined to be a major leaguer. Higgins, who is about the size of Earl Neale, has stolen 14 bases season, and, in short, is the whole works in that section of Kentucky.

Walter Schang Is Injured

PITCHER REEB O. K. AGAIN

With his displaced ribs safely anchored in their respective sockets of his vertebra, Pitcher Reeb, of Columbus, who had been out of the game for five weeks, joined the team at Chillicothe Tuesday night, only to learn that the league had blown. Reeb made the trip to Portsmouth and spent Wednesday renewing old acquaintanceship. He was the only southpaw on the local staff, and a blamed good one, too.

While pitching at Millbrook Park one sultry afternoon, Reeb felt something give way in his side and as the result of a trip to a physician he learned that two ribs were wandering around. They were placed back in their original positions and Reeb left for his home where his injury righted itself. He does not know exactly where he is "at," but hopes to catch on with some Central league team for the balance of the season. Reeb hopes to so arrange matters so he can rejoin Portsmouth should this city ever again enter professional baseball. He likes the town and her people and would welcome the chance to return to the Peerless City.

DEMOE GETS OFFER FROM ROCHESTER

Shortstop Demoe, generally regarded as the class of the O. S. L. at the short field, has received a very flattering offer from the Rochester team of the International League, and will probably accept the same, although he is in no hurry figuring that a few days' rest will not do him any particular harm. Demoe has been in every game played by the locals, not missing an inning of play. He was one of the most popular players on the local roster and one of the most aggressive players that ever pulled a shirt over his head. They play pretty fast ball in the International league, but from a fielding standpoint the diminutive Demoe will more than hold his own. He takes a wicked cut at the ball and is there forty ways from the jack when it comes to work on the base paths. It is said that at least one other player on the local team will accompany Demoe to Rochester should the latter accept the tempting offer made him.

GOING AWAY TO BE SHOT

That a woman intuitively arrives at decisions, and gets at the "rock bottom" of happenings, where men flounder about in mental fogs, has long been a common saying, and this was impressed upon us recently by the remark of a Portsmouth woman who had just returned from an automobile journey that included a visit to Canada. While there she, with her party, chanced to be at a depot when 1,100 Canadian troops boarded trains to go to the coast, where they were to take a ship for the blood-soaked battle fields in France.

To the men of the party it was a brave scene indeed. Flags were flying everywhere; bands were playing merrily; cheers resounded and the entire populace had turned out to bid farewell to the soldier boys. To show their good will the churches of the city had packed 1,100 big boxes of food, one for each soldier. The soldiers themselves were a fine sight to gaze upon. "Well set up, finely uniformed, splendid specimens of soldiers," as one of the men expressed it.

And then the woman had her say. "My, but it was a sad scene. I saw wives holding on desperately to their husbands as the train started, running along the ground as the train gathered momentum, to receive a final caress. I saw a husband and father holding one of his three children, a baby girl of about three years of age. He leaned from the train, kissing the tot, until the train was going so fast he had to drop her to the ground."

"And I thought, 'What a shame it was; all those fine looking men, loving fathers, husbands, sons, going away to be shot.'"

There was the woman's intuition. She saw behind the glamor, the glittering trappings of war, the ambition for conquest, and saw the hideous, naked reality. "All those fine men going away to be shot."

May the day come soon, when war-torn Europe will awake to the hideousness of sending her best and bravest "away to be shot."

LOSS OF POWER TO THINK

A college professor made the remark to one of his classes in the summer school at Ohio State University the other day that he notices a marked deterioration in the mental capacity of young people of college-student age since he first began to come in contact with them some 25 years ago. He said they seem unable to concentrate their minds as they used to. What they seem to learn now, he said, they acquire parrot-like. In short, they do not think.

We asked a high school teacher of long and successful experience if this is true. She said it undoubtedly is. Both she and the college professor attributed the unpromising status of the present generation of college boys and girls to too much scattering of interests. There are too many different things for them to do, their attention is constantly being diverted from one thing to another and the result is that they cannot fix their minds on anything and consequently do nothing well. Not only do they have a wide diversity of amusements, but the school curriculum itself is given over in large measure to a very wide variety of so-called studies which by the farthest stretch of the imagination cannot be considered vital or fundamental.

A return to simpler courses in school and to simpler living outside is needed, in the view of our college professor and our high school teacher. And we believe they are right.—Ohio State Journal.

RURAL STUDY CLUBS

Three thousand boys and girls in 48 of the Ohio counties are organized into clubs for the purpose of learning better the tasks of the home and the farm and getting a better appreciation of the possibilities, advantages and responsibilities of their rural life. In the organization of these clubs, Ohio State University, the state superintendent of public instruction, the county superintendents and the agricultural societies have co-operated. In the girls' "home-making clubs," they are learning food values, bread-making and methods of canning and preserving fruits and vegetables, while the boys in their clubs are learning to raise chickens and pigs, and to cultivate potatoes and tomatoes. There are to be tests and contests, each boy or girl wearing a button inscribed with the name of the contest entered, and the one ranking first in each contest is to be rewarded with a week's visit at Ohio State University, at the latter's expense. It is a thoroughly interesting venture, out of which much good should come.—Columbus Dispatch.

FOOTBALL IN SOUTH AMERICA

After a season's play by football eleven representing Argentina, Uruguay, Brazil and Chile, the eleven of Argentina and Uruguay met on Sunday at Montevideo to decide the championship of South America. Tickets were sold beyond the capacity of the stadium. The disappointed crowd clamoring at the gates added to the excitement of the international event. Uruguay carried the ball into Argentine territory. A goal from the field was attempted, but the ball sailed wide of the posts. That was as far as the game progressed. The crowd surged on the field, burned the stadium and defied the police.

The game was a failure from an athletic viewpoint, but the status of football in South America which it revealed makes it a significant event. Evidently football has so aroused the South American temperament that the organized enthusiasm of our inter-collegiate contests becomes a stilted, perfunctory thing by comparison. International football games apparently have taken the place of the wars with which South Americans formerly regaled themselves. They have become safety valves for the transplanted Castilians.

It is to be regretted that the climate will not permit football among the more equatorial nations of South America. They probably will continue to regard revolutions as the great national sport. But the future is bright for South America of the cooler latitudes. With fireproof stadium and more vigorous policing, football should strengthen its hold on the public imagination and continue as the favorite substitute for the amenities of warfare.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

Everyday Wisdom

GOLDFISH

If anybody in the world knows anything about utility, it is a goldfish. There are not any rules in life that will do it any good. "Blended are the meek." A goldfish can be as meek as anything and all it gets is more water. "A rolling stone gathers no moss." Nothing in that for a goldfish. "Silence is golden." There is a motto that must make a goldfish as mad as a hornet.

A goldfish just goes around and around. "Persevere and you will succeed." A goldfish knows that that is a darn lie, for it perseveres all day and ends up exactly where it started in the morning. All that a goldfish can get in the world is some fresh water now and then and an occasional hand-out of crumbs, and it can do nothing negative or positive to affect its supply of either of these commodities. It can be the sweetest little goldfish on earth and if somebody forgets to water it, good night, little goldfish. There are no rewards for character in a goldfish.

Life must be a mockery to a goldfish. Its environment is a falsehood. Its day is one rebuff after another. It lives under the delusion that it can go anywhere, but it can go nowhere. Glass prisons are worse than iron bars, because glass looks like you could get out. What does a goldfish know about glass? We'll let a goldfish make a thousand times a day: "I wonder why I can't go anywhere?" It sees a piano over at one side of the room and starts over to play it, but it runs into glass. Everything looks attainable, but nothing is. This is one of the saddest essays we ever wrote.

Dickey's Patience

LITTLE MARY had never allowed her Dickey bird, the pretty little yellow and black canary you have heard so much about, to get out of his cage. She wished and wished that he might fly around the room, and she often thought about how pretty he would look fluttering about. But she was afraid to open the cage door, for some folks said flying would make him stop singing.

But one day a friend came to visit in Mary's house—a friend who had a canary just as pretty, and just as good a singer as Dickey was. And this friend told Mary that flying would not hurt a bird one bit—that it might even make him sing better.

Mary thought the matter over carefully for a whole day and then, the next morning, she opened the cage door.

You should have seen Dickey! At first he didn't know what to make of the open door. In fact, he hardly seemed to see it at all. He sat some feet and flew about in his cage just as usual. And then, after a while, quite as though it was a mistake, he flew out of the open door and over to the window curtain.

There he fluttered and tried to stand on the branches painted on the curtain, but as that could not be done, he flew across the room to the radiator.

Now of course if it had been in winter time, when the steam was turned on to the radiator, Mary would have covered it up some way so he couldn't burn himself on the hot pipes. But this wasn't winter; this was summer and the radiator was as cold as cold could be and Dickey was perfectly safe on it.

How he did like those brightly painted pipes! He brushed off his bill once, twice, three times and then he hopped to the next pipe to do the same thing over again.

"Look, Mother," called Mary to her mother, who came into the room just then. "Dickey thinks those pipes are perches! See? He wipes off his bill just as he does on his perch."

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY

O-O-MEINTYRE.

New York, July 20.—Right across the street from Vincent Astor's office in West Twenty-Sixth street, in the very apartment where O. Henry, assisted by a one-cylinder typewriter, used to put the fit and the o in fiction, there is now established the central office, booking agency and talk-it-over department of the Steven Reynolds off-for-the buried treasure expedition.

Reynolds, tall, bald and heavily mustached, sits nicely in the O. Henry apartment for he also is a fictionist. Before he took to writing he was employed in the Treasury Department at Washington, D. C. On this job he found time to thumb pages of the pirate literature until he came to know Kidd and the rest of the dare-devils like old friends. Now he believes he has discovered where there are three large wholesale job lots of miscellaneous eighteen cent treasures.

He is now organizing the off-for-the-buried treasure expedition to round up this loot, bring it to market, sell it and then everybody who has a hand in the transaction retires a millionaire. Anyone who is willing to take a sporting chance can sign up with Reynolds and go in search of buried treasures. Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party, etc., etc.

At the corner of Essex and Houston streets, in the plangent East Side, stands a push-cart which might be taken as an emblem of the spirit of New York, as symbol of the problem city.

Patient, obscure, astounding, this cart is an expression of what lies beneath the shallow and glittering exterior of the biggest city in the world, its failures, its rebirths, its struggles and victories and inarticulate genius.

This street cart is presided over by a gutter merchant who sells pickles by day and slips away at night to play Shakespearean roles. Peddler by day, at night he blooms out dressed in the panoply of the heroes of Avon—as Othello, as Hamlet, as Lear. His name is Sam Dichter, his home Kieff, his tongue Yiddish. He has been playing Shakespeare in his own language since seventeen.

The latest contribution to the healing art in New York is the Vital Science system which is occupying quite a bit of space in New York newspapers. Over in Jersey City, it is claimed, that an offer has been made of a choice lot to erect a hospital, which will use this system exclusively.

It is reported that the system is the result of calling every school of healing for the qualities considered vital to the success of healing. There is one hospital that employs this method exclusively in Kansas City and another one is being planned for the south.

The tallest apartment house soon to be built in Fifty-Ninth street will have twenty-one floors, thirty less than the Woolworth building. It is also rumored that another house of forty-two stories is to be erected in Park avenue. If a man can do business daily on a fifty-first floor, life is done in the Woolworth Tower, it is argued he can live that height also. Tall apartment buildings seem to be about the only way to relieve the congestion.

Another way has been suggested in a subway running under the bay to Staten Island. This island has many acres of level and undeveloped space that is close to the downtown business district. A subway to Staten Island would solve the problem and avoid the necessity of using the tiresome ferriesboats.

Queer Errors.

The error in one biographical dictionary in which it is said that from 1899 to 1900 Roosevelt was "president of New York" reminds the Philadelphia Ledger of the fine old typographical error that crept into one of Horace Greeley's editorials. "There is no harm in Guilford," asserted the editorial, Greeley having written, "There is no harm in Glend."

MAN HELD IN POWELL MURDER CASE DENIES GUILT

DAVID BERRY AND SONS IN CUSTODY; INQUEST WILL BE HELD ON FRIDAY

David Berry, 47, and two sons, Edgar 12 and Hanzel 10, are being held at the county jail by the authorities pending investigations into the murder of Madison Powell, 62, whose dead body was found near his home on Back Run, seven miles northeast of Lucasville, Wednesday morning, with a bullet through his heart. Although admitting that he and Powell had considerable trouble in the past year, David Berry maintains that he knows nothing of the crime.

Dr. J. W. Daehler, coroner, expects to hold a formal inquest at his office, Ninth and Offshore street, Friday morning at nine o'clock. Witnesses were instructed to be present.

The scene of the tragedy is located in one of the wildest and most lonesome sections of the county.

A narrow roadway leads past the Powell house, which is a three room structure sitting on the side of a receding hill, and faces the south. Below the road is a small creek, from the west bank of which rises a steep, brush-entangled hill.

These two towering hills, which flank the Powell home, terminate abruptly about one hundred and fifty yards south on the picturesque little valley of Back Run. This valley winds and twists through several miles of rough and hilly country opening out into an expanse of rolling land, near the roadbed of the new Chesapeake & Ohio Northern railway.

Mrs. Margaret Giles, a widow, resides in a little cottage at the juncture of the lane leading past the Powell home and Back Run valley. From her back porch a splendid view can be obtained of the scene of the tragedy. But the spot where the body was found could not be seen from there because the house is in a direct line with the Giles home.

HOUSES LOCATED IN FORM OF TRIANGLE

Taking the Powell home as a given point, the three houses are located in the form of a triangle, one leg of which, drawn south to one hundred and fifty yards terminates at the Giles homestead and the other drawn almost due west for four hundred yards ends at the Berry home.

It was about five o'clock in the morning when Ora Clark, 22, who boards at the home of Mrs. Giles, came out and sat down on the back porch, at which place he commanded a good view of the Powell homestead. "I was getting ready for breakfast," said Clark on being questioned, "and was sittin' on the back porch waitin'." It must have been about five o'clock.

M. F. NELSON DISCOVERED BODY

M. F. Nelson, laborer on the Chesapeake and Ohio Northern Railroad, was on his way to work Wednesday. He came down past the Powell home. On reaching the house he discovered the body of the old man who had been living by himself for 16 years.

"It was about five-thirty o'clock when I reached here," declared Nelson, in describing his gruesome find. How I looked, I pulled out my watch and looked at it.

"Well, I was just comin' down that hill yonder," said Nelson, pointing to a narrow path leading over the hill just north of the Powell home, "and just when I came out from behind those bushes I saw Powell lyin' there," indicating the spot where he discovered the body which was on

Later Nelson, while searching for the money which the murdered man was supposed to have concealed about his home, discovered the hoard stored away in a tobacco box in the attic. There were nineteen $20 bills and two $10 bills. This money is now in the possession of Dr. J. W. Daehler.

It was about one o'clock when Deputy Sheriff Rome Arthur and Dr. O. R. Micklethwait arrived at the scene of the murder. There were already about one hundred men, women and children assembled about the Powell home. The officers proceeded directly to the place where the tragedy occurred and found the little home crowded with people.

The body had been placed upon a bed in the east room by Coroner Daehler. As the physicians entered the death chamber to hold a post mortem the crowd surged in.

The neck of a faded blue shirt was open, revealing a small black splotch, just over the heart. There was no blood.

The murdered man was of medium height, well muscled, straight with a clean cut head, set squarely upon broad shoulders. His features were even. A firm mouth was partially concealed by a mustache, which was spotted with gray. His hair was neatly combed and almost white.

While the post mortem was being held, Deputy Sheriff Arthur started investigating and after hearing the stories told by Nelson and Clark decided to visit the Berry home and interview David Berry.

Before leaving Nelson informed the deputy that Berry had come to the Powell home about eight or nine o'clock and had gotten the two horses which were occupying the stable at the Powell home, then returned.

David Berry had just entered his home, which is a four room frame, when Deputy Arthur and Jim Odle, driver of the Independent taxi which conveyed the officials to the scene, arrived. He had apparently been out to the barn repairing something for he was bareheaded and carried a hammer in his right hand.

"COME IN AND MAKE YOURSELF AT HOME"

"Come in and make yourself at home," invited Berry when the party reached the doorway. Berry is a slender man, forty-seven years of age. He is about five feet six inches in height and will probably

Deputy Sheriff Arthur asked him to step out to the corner of the house while he questioned him about the murder and Berry complied. A few moments later, the officer and Berry entered the house and while they were standing in the front room, Mrs. Berry, at the behest of her husband, went into a back room and returned with a 38 calibre, blue steeld, pearl handled revolver which she handed to Deputy Sheriff Rome Arthur. He casually examined it, and later stuck it in his pocket.

"YOU ARE GOING TO THE CITY WITH ME," SAID DEPUTY

"You are going to the city with me," said the deputy sheriff, "so get ready." Berry nervously sat down and began to untie his shoes. But he did not ask any questions. He disrobed, put on a blue serge suit, a pair of new patent leather oxfords, a clean white shirt and announced that he was ready.

An examination of the chambers of the pistol plainly shows, the deputy says, mark of having been fired. Two chambers were powder marked. The others were rusty.

There was no resistance offered until the officer took the two sons, Edgar and Hanzel by the hands and told them to come with their father. Mrs. Berry then remonstrated and followed the party several hundred feet over the hill, pleading with the officer to allow her husband and children to remain with her.

Edgar and Hanzel told practically the same story. Edgar's version of the happenings on the fateful morning was short.

"I went over early to get the horses. They broke out of the pasture last night and the old man sent us over to get them. We got down to the ditch and I saw him lying there. I saw Nelson come down over the hill and I hollered to Nelson and asked him if he knew Madison Powell was dead. He didn't say and he came on down further and looked at him and hollered: 'Lord, have mercy' and then hollered to Mrs. Giles.

ADMITS TWO MEN WERE NOT ON GOOD TERMS

"Then we went back to the house and told pa. That's all." Mrs. Gypsy Berry, wife of David Berry, in answer to several questions, readily admitted that her husband and the murdered man were not on good terms. "He and my husband had been quarrelling. My husband bought a horse from him. That was a year ago last spring. And my husband contracted to clear the brush off his field, a foot and a half deep and pile it in windrows. He did the job all right and the horse died. Took a fit or somethin'. So Mr. Powell came over and said my husband was to cut everything and that he was to cut the saw logs and pile them. My husband got the job done. But he didn't contract to pile the logs. And they disagreed.

"Then they had some trouble over our horses breaking out and gettin' into Powell's field. Last Saturday Powell sent my husband a note askin' him to fix up the fence between us and him.

CLAIMS SHE DIDN'T HEAR ANY SHOTS FIRED

"Yes, we have a gun. It is an old revolver that don't shoot. The children play with it. No, I didn't hear any shots. We weren't up yet. Maybe that's the reason."

"Edgar and Hanzel went down to get the horses just a minute or two after they got up. The horses had broken out and had gotten into Powell's field. My husband had the headache and sent the two boys to bring them back.

"Then in a little bit they came back and said Powell was dead." Berry was born and reared in Lawrence county, Kentucky, about fifteen miles from Louisa, the county seat. He was married at the age of eighteen, he says, and at the end of eleven years, his wife died. Later he married for the second time. Three years ago he purchased a forty acre tract, his present farm, from Eva Thompson, Stockdale, and has been living there since. He has been a farmer and a carpenter all his life. His parents are dead, he says. Reuben Berry was his father's name.

He has five sons; Reuben, 28, who is in the United States army; Parley, 17; Edgar, 12; Hanzel, 10; and Charles, 2, and two daughters, Florence, 23, and Martha, 18.

MR. BERRY GIVES HIS VERSION OF AFFAIR

While leaning heavily upon the gate that leads into the small yard which surrounds the Powell home, Berry told his story. "Well, it was something like daylight when I got up. Well, I called my girl Martha and hollered for her to get up and get breakfast. Then I got my wife up and told her to get breakfast.

"I have two boarders, Roscoe and James Berry, cousins of mine, who work on the Chesapeake and Ohio Northern railroad and they have to get their breakfast early. 'No, I didn't hear a shot. I stepped out in the yard and saw the horses were gone from the lot and I goes back in and told my two boys to go get the horses.

"Then I went back to breakfast and the boys came back and yelled from the barn lot. I understood them to say old man Nelson was dead. I said, 'No!' Then I asked them if they were plump sure he was dead and they said 'Yes.' And I asked them who was dead and it was a long time before I could understand them that Powell was dead.

"Then I came down and got the horses and came back. 'Well, I don't like to go out in the dew,' answered Berry to a question relative to his reasons for sending his sons for the horses.

"But didn't you tell your wife that you had a headache? That is what she told us."

"Well, I have been bothered with the toothache and the neuralgia. Yes, and I have the headache too. But it was on account of the dew that I sent the boys down. I never like to go out in the dew. You know I am a sickly man."

NEVER HEARD DEAD MAN MAKE THREATS

"The last time I saw Powell it was down to Giles' one day last week. I don't remember the day. No, I never heard him make any threats against me.

"Well, I told him I would whip him. Yes, sir. I told him if he talked any more I would whip him. Yes, sir. And I told him I would whip him if I had to come down to his house and take him out. We had a little trouble but never quarrelled. He was a sassy old fellow and we have been havin' it for some years. My stock breaks the fence down and gets into his pasture.

"I offered to fix it because he wouldn't fix it. I wanted to fix half of it and him half of it and he wouldn't do it. But I did see him fixin' the fence a day or two ago. Yes, I got a note from him Saturday, I believe it was, askin' me to fix the fence. But I didn't do it.

"I don't know anything about it," he declared when asked whom he thought fired the fatal shot. "I don't know anything about it."

Mrs. Margaret Giles, who was well acquainted with the murdered man, said he was born in Madison township, March 29, 1854, and that his parents' names were Henry Powell and Mary Kirkpatrick Powell. He was married twenty-five years ago or more and a few years later divorced. Since that time, his former wife had married again. He had lived on his farm, Back Run, for sixteen years or more.

He keeps both of them and I look after the milk. This was the last time I saw him. And I guess it was the last time he was seen alive.

"Powell sold his place to a man named Elmer Hares from up in Virginia not long ago and he got $400 down. Powell was cleaning up his place and there was a dispute between him and Berry over a fence. Berry claimed that it was Powell's fence to keep repaired and the latter claimed it was Berry's. Then Berry's stock would break through and get into Powell's field.

"Yes, they have had several rackets. I heard them. I don't

WAS WORRIED ABOUT BERRY'S STOCK

"It seems like the Berry stock bothered him," said Mrs. Giles, in discussing the crime. "Powell told me two or three weeks ago that Berry had threatened to whip him if he had to come down to the house and take him out. It has been about two weeks I guess. Then he went up to see the township trustees about Berry shutting up his stock and he sent a note to Berry about it Saturday.

"Late yesterday evening I saw him cutting grass along the creek. Wilma Sampson, a little girl 10 years of age, had gone up to the rows and as she came back he helped her through the field. You know he has a cow and I have one.

Elaborate Plans Are Made For Daugherty Meeting Saturday

Judge A. T. Holcomb will act as chairman of the Daugherty Reception Committee. This was decided upon Wednesday evening at a special meeting of the Daugherty Campaign Committee of Scioto county. Judge Holcomb will also introduce the distinguished visitor—Hon. Harry M. Daugherty, candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator who will be in this city Saturday.

Elaborate arrangements for the entertainment of Mr. Daugherty were made last evening at this meeting. A committee composed of John Staten and George Keller was appointed to decorate the Washington Hotel. D. Willard Gustin, secretary of the Daugherty Campaign Club was selected to prepare a list of automobile owners who would meet Mr. Daugherty Saturday noon and escort him to the Washington Hotel. In all probabilities Mr. Daugherty will come to Portsmouth by the way of Harrisonville from Marietta. Should he do this, the automobiles will assemble at the Gallia street esplanade at an appointed time and then go to Harrisonville to meet him.

A public reception will be held at the Washington Hotel Saturday afternoon, at which every voter in the county, regardless of party affiliations, is invited to meet Mr. Daugherty.

In the evening at seven-thirty o'clock, unless it rains, Mr. Daugherty will deliver an address pertaining to the important state and national issues from a platform on the Gallia street esplanade. Should it rain, the meeting will be held in the Scioto County Republican Club rooms.

As the invitations were mailed to each member of the Scioto County Republican Club by the Herrick Voters' League of Scioto County, when Hon. Myron T. Herrick was in the city, so will the Daugherty Campaign Club mail similar invitations.

The reception committee appointed to assist in the entertainment of Mr. Daugherty, is:

There were two rooms, a sitting room and a bed room. In the bed room, near a small window, stood an automatic shot gun. This was the only weapon found in the house. The barrel of this gun was covered with a thin coat of dust.

The spectators who knew Powell, all spoke well of him, and commended his character.

STORM IS MOVING NORTHWARD To Meet Friday

Washington, July 20—The tropical storm making its way up the Atlantic coast from the West Indies apparently was centered this morning two hundred miles off the North Carolina coast about eastward of Cape Hatteras. Very little information had reached the weather bureau early today concerning its intensity. The only reports came by radio from ships at sea in the vicinity of the storm. Latest dispatches told of winds with a velocity of sixty-four miles an hour, but these were from the edges of the disturbance.

The ladies of Vienna Auxiliary of Vienna Camp Sons of Veterans will meet tomorrow, Friday evening, in regular session at the home of the president, Mrs. Harry Richman, on Eighth street, near Murray.

A large delegation from Vienna Camp, Sons of Veterans, will attend this meeting and it promises to be one of the best held during the summer season.

The following weather report was received at the wharfeast this morning from Forecaster Deveraux: Thunder showers over upper Ohio Valley this afternoon and tonight. Friday partly cloudy. River will fall at Portsmouth.

The Ohio river is receding here and at 9:30 this morning the gauge, according to River Observer Fred B. Winter, showed a stage of 20.5 against 22.5 at practically the same hour Wednesday morning, the river having dropped back two feet in 24 hours.

The Scioto river is still rising, but will do very little damage to the lowlands, according to a statement made this morning by John Flannigan.

"The Scioto is rising, but I can't see where it will do much damage in this vicinity," Mr. Flannigan stated this morning.

While enroute a meeting of the delegates of the Tri-State Log-Rolling, to be held at Williamson, W. Va., this year are to hold a meeting and formulate plans for this event.

Both the New Boston and the Portsmouth camps are to hold their class
